

Commission Finds Scranton Group Company Guilty of Says Peterson Age Discrimination Was Imprudent

Rules Racine Firm Forced
42 Retirements at Age 60

State GOP Chairman
Claims He Repeated
Comments of Others

MADISON (AP)—The State Industrial Commission held Tuesday that the Walker Manufacturing Co. of Racine discriminated against 42 employees forced to retire at age 60 and ordered them reinstated.

The ruling was the first in Wisconsin involving age discrimination which is prohibited in employment along with discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, national origin or ancestry.

Walker, which manufactures automobile parts, started a policy in 1962 of retiring on a systematic basis employees over 60. Officers of local 85, United Auto Workers, AFL-CIO complained to the Industrial Commission that the company was practicing age discrimination in violation of state law.

Firm's Contentions

The company responded that the pension agreement with the union provides that persons between 60 and 65 years of age could be retired at the option of the company.

The law makes such pension agreements valid only if they do not constitute a subterfuge to evade age discrimination provisions of the Fair Employment law.

The commission found that neither the collective bargaining agreement nor the pension agreement required employee retirement before age 65.

"The respondent's voluntary adoption of a policy and voluntary institution of a system of compulsory retirement of the complainants prior to age 65 and solely because they had attained 60 or more years of age constituted a subterfuge to evade the purpose of the law," the commission found.

The company was ordered to stop the practice of retiring employees at age 60 and to pay the retired employees for the pay they lost through the forced retirement.

Aid State Group

Moeller, who came to Appleton today to begin working with the state Scranton organization, said he intends to help the state group and to "talk Scranton with some Wisconsin national convention delegates."

Moeller said "perhaps after Peterson examines the possible detrimental consequences, he may reconsider and soften his statement. We feel that Peterson's statement is not in keeping with the original plan to keep the Wisconsin delegation uncom-

Lodge Predicts Victory In S. Viet Nam Conflict

Realistic Political and
Military Policies Vital
In Fighting Reds, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that the "downward spiral" in the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam has been stopped.

He said "we will win" if the United States and the South Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies.

In his first major speech since returning from Saigon Monday, Lodge pictured the greatest threat to this confident outlook as an increase in "hostile outside pressures" from the Communist side.

If those pressures grow too great, he said in an address prepared for the National Press Club, then "we may be forced" to take other actions to deal with the new threat.

Lodge did not spell out what additional steps might be employed against Communist forces in Southeast Asia. There has been considerable talk from U.S. officials in recent weeks about possibly carrying the war to North Viet Nam by air strikes, but he did not mention that.

He did say, however, that one kind of "outside pressures" can come from neighboring land used as a "sanctuary" from which Viet Nam can be attacked and the Communist Viet Cong forces given assistance "with impunity."

Frontier Inspection

"Obviously," Lodge said, "when one is engaged in a life-and-death struggle, such a sanctuary must not go on forever." But he added: "it should be possible to deal with this problem by peaceful means."

Lodge declared the United States "must work for effective supervision" of South Viet Nam's borders with North Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Laos to stop the Communists from violating them in moving supplies and reinforcements into South Viet Nam and in making attacks on that country.

He said proper supervision of the borders is essential for ending aggression in Viet Nam and for achieving peace in Southeast Asia.

Press Reports State 44 Dead In Typhoon

275 Injured and
376,897 Homeless
In Philippine Areas

MANILA (AP)—Casualty figures from Typhoon Winnie soared today as reports of death and destruction from one of the worst storms ever to smash through Manila started trickling in from stricken areas.

The Philippine News Service and local newspapers reported 44 dead although the Red Cross listed only 11 fatalities. The Red Cross reported 275 injured and 376,897 homeless in cities and provinces of central Luzon land hit by the typhoon.

Cleanup Started

Manila declared a state of calamity and began clearing rubble and debris. The city of two million still was without electric power and water 36 hours after the typhoon roared in from the Pacific with winds up to 90 miles an hour Monday.

Public transportation was restored this morning. City streets were choked with cars and buses.

The Manila International Airport reopened to traffic after a 26-hour suspension.

The typhoon passed south of the big U.S. Clark Air Force Base, 40 miles north of Manila, but hit the U.S. Navy's Sangley Point Air Station across the bay from Manila. A Navy spokesman said there were no casualties. Aircraft were either lashed securely or flown to safer areas.

The Manila Weather Bureau said the typhoon, still packing 95-mile winds, was churning across the South China Sea toward the Chinese mainland.

Kennedy Ends His Unofficial Visit to Poles

Gets Cold Shoulder
From Red Regime but Not From People

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's visit to Poland ended today with a noisy, tearful farewell from hundreds of Poles and a cold shoulder from the Communist government.

Before leaving for London, en route to the United States, he issued a statement to newsmen urging "the reconciliation of Eastern and Western Europe in association with the United States" as "the only sure guarantee against nuclear war, whether by design or accident."

Except for low-ranking aides and security people, no Polish officials saw Kennedy, his wife and three of their children off at the airport. Although Kennedy's visit was private, he had been met on his arrival last Saturday by Ambassador Eugeniusz Milnikiel of the Foreign Ministry.

Regime Resentful

The government was understood to be irritated at Kennedy's series of stump-style speeches to street crowds and his visit to Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland, against the advice of government officials.

Several hundred Poles outside Kennedy's hotel repeated the ovations he has received the past few days. They serenaded him with a chorus of "May you live 100 years" as he climbed again to the roof of his sedan.

In his statement to newsmen Kennedy plugged a theme which is said to have attracted the interest of Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki in a meeting two days ago.

It was that "Poland has political ties with the Soviet Union, and personal ties with the United States and therefore has a unique opportunity to contribute to European security and the easing of tension between the United States and the Soviet Union."

Coast Guard Abandons Search for Swimmer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard has abandoned a two-day search for Britt Sullivan, 28, who reportedly disappeared Sunday, the fifth day of her attempt to swim to Europe.

Planes, cutters and helicopters of the Coast Guard searched the Atlantic Ocean off Long Island but found no trace of her. She had failed to rendezvous with an escort boat.

Lightning Kills Vesper Youth

VESPER, Wis. (AP)—Donald Brockman, 17, was killed by lightning Tuesday as he stalled pipe with a younger brother and his father in a marsh on the family cranberry farm.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brockman of rural Vesper.

Dr. Louis Pfeiffer, the deputy Wood County coroner, said the boy was killed by a single flash of lightning. His brother suffered minor burns. The father was not injured.

Methodist Minister Expelled for Heresy

SHEFFIELD, England (AP)—A Methodist minister who calls the Virgin birth "a piece of mythology" has been expelled from the ministry on heresy charges.

"I am no longer a Methodist minister," Walter Gill, 49, said after a two-hour hearing before today's church conference Tuesday.

There is no appeal from the decision.

Gill, who had been minister to three churches in northern England, said he has a wife, two children and "not a bean in the world."

Vote Tomorrow On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House votes Thursday on the revised civil rights bill. Overwhelming approval is expected which would send the measure to President Johnson for a symbolic July 4th signing ceremony.

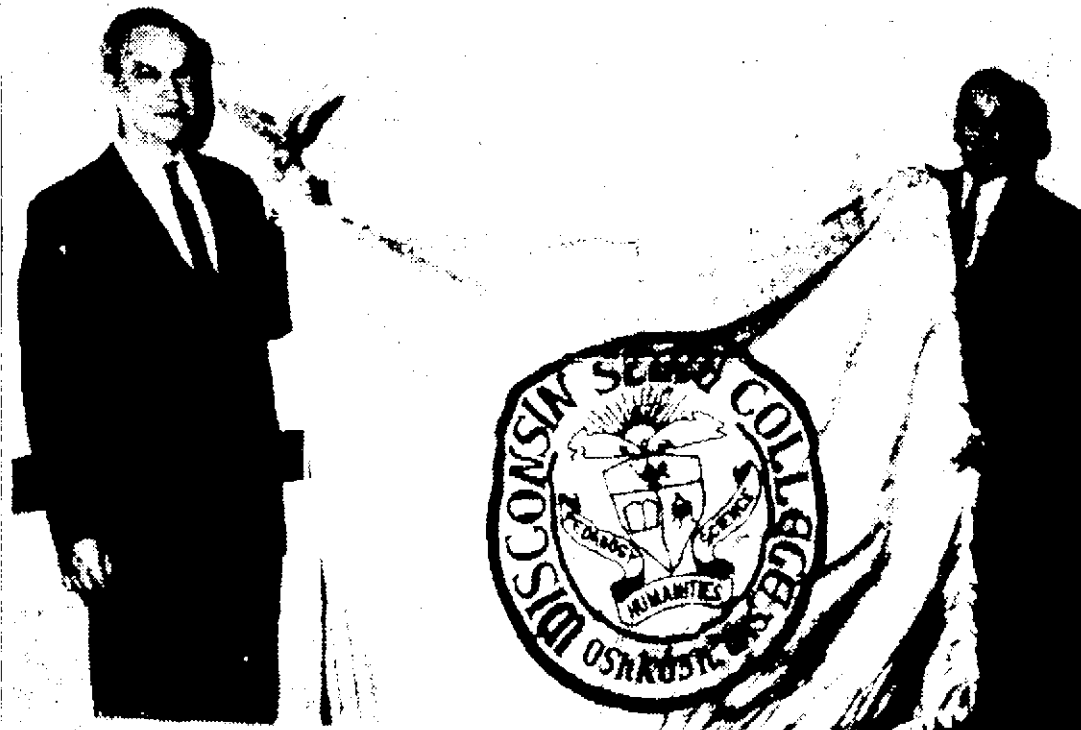

Tuesday night, a pro-civil rights bloc on the House Rules Committee, by a 10-5 vote, cleared the 126-page bill for House floor action.

The House approved the original version on Feb. 10 by a vote of 290 to 130. House members now will vote on the Senate version of the bill.

The idea of a Fourth of July signing ceremony moved a Rules Committee member, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., to declare "I think it would be a desecration."

One of the Final Acts of Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh, was the retirement Tuesday of the college banner to make way for the new Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh name which became effective today. Displaying the "retired" banner are President Roger E. Guiles, left, and Prof. Nexin S. James, right. Prof. James has been on the faculty of the school since 1923 and has seen the institution change from Oshkosh Normal School to Oshkosh State Teachers College in 1925 then to Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh in 1949. Appleton, Oshkosh Become Homes of 'New' Universities

Lawrence, OSC Names Changed
To Adequately Describe Structure

Appleton and Oshkosh today became the home of a university as the institutions of higher learning in both cities officially changed their names and organizational structures.

Lawrence College in Appleton became Lawrence University, and the state college in Oshkosh, like the other state colleges, became Wisconsin State University.

In both instances, the name change has been described as a "quietly described" educational structure of each institution. Both universities offer courses in more than one "school" of instruction.

Lawrence officially merged with Milwaukee-Downer College today. The Appleton school was founded as a university in 1847, but it was made a college in 1914.

Transfer of the movable physical property from the campus to the Oshkosh institution was completed today. University officials said they were the keynote of the "University Breakfast" which marked the official change of the name to provide the Congo with leaders. Among them, former Gov. Arthur C. Hoffman, 1960 Vice President Nixon, the 1960 standard bearer, former Governor Thomas Dewey, twice the

Tshombe Asked to Form Government

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Joseph Kasavubu today asked Moise Tshombe, former secessionist leader in Katanga, to begin consultations with other political leaders on forming a new government.

Premier Cyrille Adoula and his Cabinet resigned Tuesday after nearly three years in office.

The Katanga's task will be to seek a combination of leaders to provide the Congo with a provisional government to prepare for new elections in standard bearer, former Governor Thomas Dewey, twice the

Secret Strategy Mapped

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spectacular plan is in full swing to literally "draft" former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to become an active candidate again in a last hour desperate move to block the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Recourse to this sensational strategy is said to have the vigorous backing of Governors Scranton and Rockefeller and Henry Cabot Lodge, who abruptly gave up his ambassadorship to South Viet Nam to rush back to the U.S. to join in the vehement "stop-Goldwater" drive.

Insiders are claiming that this extraordinary scheme has a hax tacit approval: that it has been discussed with him and he has indicated he is apparently willing to "go along and give it a try."

Milton is said to be urgently stressing the "absolute necessity" of his agreeing to per-mit his name to be tossed into the Chase National Bank and the turbulent presidential con-Rockefeller "lieutenant" and test to block Goldwater's nomination of the special committee investigating the assassination of President Kennedy.

Aim of the group militantly pushing this plan is to announce it before the opening of the convention in San Francisco on July 13.

Scranton Accuses Goldwater of 'Warmongering'

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said today Sen. Barry Goldwater is "playing the warmongers' game" in proposing use of military force to solve some international problems.

Scranton declared he believes Goldwater, the frontrunner for the Republican presidential nomination, "in his heart wants peace."

"Isn't he playing the warmongers' game when he proposes authorizing field commanders to use tactical nuclear weapons on their initiative; when he suggests sending Marines to capture the Guantanamo water?" he asked.

"These are reckless proposals," Scranton said. "They are the very opposite of the calm strength with which President Dwight D. Eisenhower for eight years maintained the world's peace."

Military Aid to India Rapped by Pakistan

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan left for London today and said he would try to convince the Commonwealth prime ministers and Western nations "about the dangers involved in giving military aid to India."

Ayub scheduled stops in Kabul, Tehran and Ankara en route to the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference opening in London July 8.

Court Upholds $1 Verdict in Church Case

Donor Contended Terms of His Gift Had Not Been Met

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court said Tuesday that a Sheboygan man who sued the Greek Orthodox Community of St. Spyridon for $4,800 must be satisfied with a jury verdict which awarded him $1.

The ruling reversed a Sheboygan County Court decision which granted Ernest C. Vasselos a new trial in a dispute with his church.

Vasselos, a 73-year-old real estate broker, said that in 1956 he agreed to pay up to $1,200 a year to augment the salary of a new priest at the church.

Conditional Offer
He contended that the offer was conditional on the priest's teaching Greek to the church's young people and a showing of a need for the extra funds.

Vasselos brought suit to collect the $4,800 he had already paid, claiming that the terms of the agreement had been violated by the church.

A county court jury found in favor of Vasselos and assessed his damages at $1.

Judge John G. Buchen granted Vasselos a new trial on ground the verdict was contrary to the evidence and the $1 award was inadequate.

The church, which includes about 45 Sheboygan families, appealed the order for a new trial.

Disagree on Award
In reversing Buchen the Supreme Court disagreed that award of $1 was not supported by the evidence.

Justice E. Harold Hallows said the Supreme Court could not agree with the trial court that because the jury found for the plaintiff it must have necessarily accepted the plaintiff's version of the conditions relating to the financial need, the scope of the building fund and the method of ascertaining deficit.

The Supreme Court did not decide whether Vasselos had a contract or agreement with the church.

As to conditions broken, Hallows said the plaintiff proved no personal damages and consequently the most he could recover would be nominal damages of $1.

Parents' World

Answer to Child's Query Needn't Exceed Situation

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: I went to a very school picnic yesterday and overheard something that made me puzzled. Both parents were supposed to show up for the picnic and most of the fathers and mothers arrived as couples. But occasionally a mother or a father would arrive alone. A boy said he'd get here as soon as behind me said, rather casually, he could, so let's start eating someone his age to feel like

"When's Daddy going to come?"

His mother answered him in a very calm and sincere tone. "Now, darling, you know that your father loves you very much, you know that don't you? And he'll be here soon because he loves you very much. So don't you worry, Daddy will be here soon to be with his boy he loves so much."

Somehow, I wondered if she was wrong or I was. When my boy asked me when my husband would arrive, I told him, "He old. But he still hates girls. I can't believe it's normal for someone his age to feel like

He'll probably show up soon MRS. M. R.

A boy with a healthy and secure tie with his parents doesn't need such "reassurance" about being loved. Anyhow, such talk doesn't answer a child's question about when a parent will arrive.

I suspect the mother was merely saying something that she had mistakenly decided would be good to say if she ever had to frustrate a child. Unfortunately, such meaningless and ritual comment may easily have the effect of making all talk about love cheap and unadvised.

Dear Dr. Jones: My son is going to be a sophomore in high school. He'll soon be 14 years old. But he still hates girls. I can't believe it's normal for someone his age to feel like this I don't want him to develop this opinion into something he carries with him throughout his life. What should I do? MRS. P. F.

You don't mention if your son has entered puberty yet. Most boys are his age or a year older before they do. Until then, it's unreasonable for them to be "interested" in girls.

Wednesday, July 1, 1964 Appleton Post-Crescent A12

Don't pester him about his pre-adolescent attitude toward girls. If you haven't given him cause to hate himself as a male or to hate women, he'll start becoming attracted to females in another year or two when the male hormones start making chemical magic in his bloodstream.

Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X E

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three I's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Parents oppose family life education in the schools. True— False—

False Although this is popularly believed there is little or no evidence for parental opposition to sex education in the schools. The most recent Gallup poll reports 61 per cent of American women approving of sex instruction by teachers. Practically three out of four women want their children taught manners and etiquette in school. More than 90 per cent want the public high school to include good citizenship in its teaching. If parents had their way, the schools would deal with the problems of life in the classroom. How do you feel about it?

Yes— No—

Yes and no. If you mean, do American women approve of birth control the answer is yes, the overwhelming majority. But if you ask if they believe that an absolutely sure method exists, only one out of four married women reply in the affirmative. A recent poll found 56 per cent of the married women in their 20's saying their first child was not planned, and 62 per cent report that other chil-

CBS Predicts Summer of Rights Moves

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — Are Civil Rights supporters and critics in for a tough time? The Summer Ahead, a CBS News Special Report, tries to answer the question as it explores the main streets and back streets of cities in the North—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit—and ones in the South—St. Augustine, Fla., and Jackson, Miss.

6:30-8 (Channel 4-5) — "The Fatal Journey" is repeated on The Virginian. In this episode, James Drury convinces outlaw leader Robert Lansing that he is one of six dangerous prison escapees so he can join his band of toughs (Color).

7:30 (Channel 11) — The Patty Duke Show repeats "The Actress," which has the cousins all but throwing daggers at one another in order to play the lead in a school production of "Cleopatra."

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — The Farmers Daughter continues its summer holiday by repeating "An Affair of State."

7:30-8 (Channel 2) — Dan Duryea, one of those hot-shot newspaper reporters that would scare you to death if you saw him in a real-life city room, is out to break a gambling syndicate in a repeat of "Repercussion" on Suspense.

8-9 (Channel 11) — "Light Up the Dark Corner" is repeated on Ben Casey, and it's shed a tear time again. Richard Basehart is a roistering sailor who comes to the hospital after a fight. Piper Laurie is the typical Irish nurse — bullying in a darlin' sort of way.

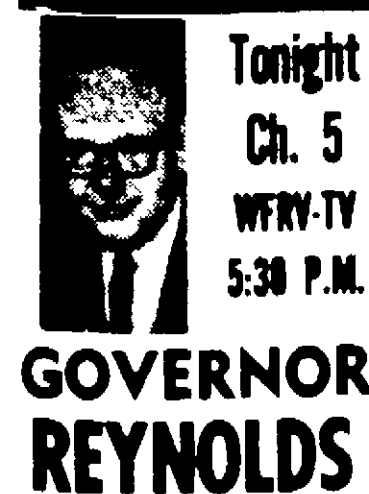

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — "We, The Hunted" is repeated on Espionage with Madyen Rhue playing an American tourist who is being stalked by Joseph Campanella to track down a Nazi responsible for the deaths of 50,000 Jews during World War II.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show has Rob getting into another of his exasperating jams when he takes a pretty girl out of the chorus line and gives her a feature dance spot on his show.

8:30 (Channel 4-5) — "87 Different Kinds of Love" is repeated on The Eleventh Hour and you'll need, if you're prone to tears, at least 11 handkerchiefs to get through it.

8:30 (Channel 2) — The Danny Kaye Show repeats its lively session with Gwen Verdon and the Clinger Sisters.

North Shore Assembly Ball Plans Announced

14 Young Women to be Presented July 11

Fourteen members of North Shore Golf Club will proudly escort this year's Assembly Ball presentees at the club's summer social highlight July 11. The young women, all recently graduated from high school, will be introduced to club president D. E. Ryan, who in turn will present them to the adult membership. The ceremony will be held for the 26th time this year.

The young women to be honored are Miss Annette Marie Anderson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Anderson, Neenah; Miss Mary Elizabeth Borg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Borg, Appleton; Miss Nancy Alison Buchanan, daughter of Mrs. James Buchanan, Neenah; Miss Lynn Frances Dickinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scott Dickinson Jr., Appleton; Miss Katherine Ives Gosin, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Mowry Smith Jr., Neenah; Miss Barbara Lee Heroman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee C. Heroman Jr., Neenah; and Miss Connie Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Johnson, Neenah.

Others to be Introduced

Also to be presented are Miss Mary Beth Krippene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban M. Krippene, Menasha;

Miss Mary McKenny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. McKenny, Appleton; Miss Kathy O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Brien Jr., Appleton; Miss Ellen Jane Pertain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andree Pertain, Neenah; Miss Barbara Gray Purdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Barton Purdy, Appleton; Miss Barbara Jane Sawtell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bradford Sawtell, Neenah; and Miss Sandra Stafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stafford, Neenah.

Parties Arranged

The honorees and their dates will be guests before the ball at a cocktail party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Anderson, 1002 E. Forest Ave., Neenah. The Andersons will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Sawtell. Hosts at the post-ball party will be Mr. and Mrs. Stafford, 1411 E. Forest Ave., Neenah, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

This year's Assembly Ball will follow traditions of previous years. Since the first affair in 1939, the presentees have been gownned for their introductions in 'debutante' white. After the presentations have been made, the girls' fathers or sponsors claim the first dance, with the 'rush' dance giving the young men an opportunity to dance with the presentees.

18th Summer

According to North Shore custom, the young women are introduced the summer they become 18. In the fall, all will attend college or school in various parts of the country.

Miss Anderson graduated from Neenah High School, will attend Stephens College, Columbia, Mo. Miss Borg has chosen the Layton Art School in Milwaukee for further study. She is an Appleton High School graduate. Miss Buchanan will journey to Wellesley College in Wellesley, Mass., for her college work. She finished high school at The American School in Lugano, Switzerland.

Chooses Beloit College

Miss Dickinson, an Appleton High School graduate, will attend the University of Wisconsin when school begins in autumn. Beloit College is the choice of Miss Gosin, who was graduated from Emma Willard School at Troy, N. Y. Miss Heroman, Miss Krippene and Miss Johnson will enter the College of St. Theresa at Winona, Minn. Miss Heroman was graduated from Neenah High School and Miss Johnson and Miss Krippene from Menasha High School. The College of St. Catherine at St. Paul, Minn., is the fall destination of Miss McKenny, who was graduated in June from Appleton High School.

Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh, has been chosen by Miss O'Brien, a Xavier graduate. Miss Pertain is a student at Ferris Hall, Lake Forest, Ill. Miss Purdy, graduated from Wayland Academy at Deaver Dam, has chosen Stanford University, Stanford, Calif., for her college studies.

Will Attend Stephens

Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., will be home this fall to Miss Sawtell and Miss Stafford. Miss Sawtell was graduated from the American School of Paris, France, and Neenah High School, and Miss Stafford is an alumna of The Masters School, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.

Each of the young women will invite two couples as her guests for the dance after the 10 p.m. presentation. For all of them, the Assembly Ball is the peak of summer activities that include interests in art, music, sewing, knitting, swimming, sailing, water skiing, horseback riding and sports car racing.

High School Annuals Cause Heartbreak for Some Students

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The high school annuals just came out. I'm sure you remember from your own high school days the excitement that filled the corridors when these prized volumes at long last were handed to the students.

Our daughter Elsie finished in the upper 5 per cent of her class. Elsie is not pretty and has had very few dates. She is painfully shy and in an effort a year book committee in future years. They may think twice before they break someone's heart.—No Name Please

The year book committee prints a little saying under the name of each student. Under Elsie's picture there appeared a cruel and insulting line ridiculing her aloneness. The poor girl, sobbing through her tears, said, "I always looked forward to keeping my high school annual as a souvenir to show my children. How could I show this to anybody?"

I hope you will publish my letter, Ann. It's too late to help Elsie, but perhaps some boy or girl who reads this may be on

Princess Margaretha Wed to Businessman

GAERDSLOESA. Sweden Margaretha, was married June 30, to Baron Niclas Silfverschild. Margaretha's marriage left only one of the four Swedish princesses unmarried — Christine, 20, who recently returned from a year at Radcliffe College in the United States.

Princess Margaretha of Sweden, 30, became the bride of British businessman John Ambler, 40, Tuesday at Borgholm, Sweden, on the Baltic Isle of Oeland. Mr. Ambler holds out his hand to feel the rain. The princess is dressed in white and wears the Lutheran Church's golden wedding crown on her auburn hair. Oeland was chosen for the wedding because it is the favorite summer home of the bride's mother, Princess Sibylla. (AP Wirephoto)

A Lovelier You By Mary Sue Miller

Pretty Protection

The skin around the eyes and on the lips are the first to react to summer sun and heat. The eye areas dry and crinkle. The lips dry and pucker. Although they are the "busiest" parts of the face, they get very little help from nature in the way of protective lubrication.

And there's where medicated lipsticks and eye oil sticks and oil sticks come to the rescue. Medicated lipsticks provide a barrier between the lips and the drying blasts of sun and wind. Too, they contain healing and soothing ingredients.

But you would never guess their serious side from appearances. The colors are sensational and the finish is cover-girl perfection.

An eye oil stick offers an invisible treatment, one that wards off dryness and helps to keep the lids and circle areas smooth. Although rich in emollients, applications quickly disappear. The oil may be applied

Promises Exchanged

BLACK CREEK—Mrs. Robert J. Tach and Louis Kaphangst were married in a 6 p.m. ceremony Thursday at Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church. The Rev. Arden L. Wood performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hartwig, Seymour, were honor attendants.

The couple is honeymooning in Canada.

point pens, pencils, erasers, stapling machines, paper clips, and postage stamps. Last night when he brought home a typewriter "just to use for awhile," he said, I hit into him.

He claims that since he is a taxpayer he is entitled to these things because after all, "we pay for them in the long run." In the meantime everything he brings home is clearly labeled "Property of the United States Government."

We have young children, Ann, and I don't want them to learn any bad habits. Will you please give me your views on this—Lone Voice

Dear Voice: Taxpayers also pay for the statues in the park. I assume your husband wouldn't think of taking them home.

Ask him if he removes these little items in the presence of his boss, or if he waits until he is alone to carry them off. This should settle the question in his own mind—if he has one.

Your husband is setting a terrible example for his children. Don't let up until he takes everything back and stops lugging home stolen objects or the kids may be visiting him in Leavenworth.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A few months ago a friend was stricken with an illness that was confining but not serious. She had to be in the hospital for several days.

Since the woman lives several thousand miles from me, I slipped a check for $5.00 in an envelope and wrote a note suggesting she have the nurse buy her whatever she needed.

Weeks passed and I received no acknowledgement. Just when I was preparing to drop her a line and ask if my check had gone astray I received her letter saying:

"Dear Erma: I had so many flowers that they had to be distributed to the patients in the wards. I will never be able to get through all the books that I received. I just couldn't think of a thing I needed. Here's your check for $5.00."

I felt as if I had been slapped right across the face. Will you please give me your opinion of this?—Insulted

Dear Insulted: Your gift was unimaginative and tasteless. Her response was boorish and crude. I'd say it's a wash.

Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wild Neckties at Wild Art Exhibits

Paul Steiner, author of "175 Little Known Facts About John F. Kennedy," wore some neckties that were a little on the wild side to art exhibits to see how people would react. He found that while some of the weirdest works of art were readily accepted by the viewers, his ties created more of a sensation.

German Youth Camp Named for Former Nazi SS Member

Officer Provided Evidence For Nuernberg Crimes Trials

BY HANNS NEUERBOURG FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A new youth center in the Ruhr bears the name of Kurt Wygoda is incensed because Gerstein, a lieutenant in the West German authorities have Nazi SS who had the job of supplying poison gas for the Auschwitz death mills.

Gerstein's cause is championed by a Jewish survivor of Nazi concentration camps and when he sought an audience with the Papal Nuncio in Berlin, and later wrote: "Could one expect that an ordinary citizen can do something when even the vicar of Christ does not want to listen to me although tens of thousands are murdered."

Inspired Author Gerstein's visit inspired German author Rolf Hochhuth in writing his largely fictitious play "The Deputy."

In 1945 Gerstein surrendered to the Allies and gave the most detailed report on Nazi crimes ever to reach Allied hands. As proof he supplied bills for the cyanide gas.

The Allies could not be sure of Gerstein's anti-Nazi efforts and he was interned. He died July 25, 1945, in a Paris prison. Officially the cause was suicide, but there have been recurrent rumors that he was murdered to silence an accuser.

Nazi Offender

In 1950, a German court ruled that Gerstein was a Nazi offender. His widow, Elfriede Gerstein, appealed but the appeal was rejected.

Wygoda heard of the Gerstein case just after he had successfully finished a 13-year struggle with authorities for recognition of his own German citizenship.

Struck by what he regarded as another case of postwar injustice, Wygoda got Mrs. Gerstein's permission to reopen her husband's case.

Jewish organizations in Germany and France have taken up the cause.

German authorities have advised Wygoda that they will take another look at the Gerstein case.

Gerstein Wygoda

has been taken up by Jewish organizations.

"If there had been thousands more like Gerstein, there would have been no Auschwitz," says Issy Wygoda, 43, a Frankfurt fur dealer and onetime concentration camp inmate.

Gerstein died under mysterious conditions shortly after World War II, but he provided important evidence which was his church. Dibelius in turn issued at the Nuernberg war-crimes trials. He risked his life to obtain much of it, Wygoda believes.

Wygoda is incensed because Gerstein, a lieutenant in the West German authorities have Nazi SS who had the job of supplying poison gas for the Auschwitz death mills.

In 1940 a sister-in-law was killed as a mental patient under the Nazi "mercy killing" program and Gerstein began checking on Nazi killings. He joined the SS to gain inside knowledge of Nazi crimes, Wygoda says.

Gerstein had studied some medicine and chemistry. The SS needed men with his training and he eventually headed a section in the "Hygiene Institute."

One of his jobs was to procure a cyanide gas used by extermination camps.

Gerstein tried to sabotage the operations in a limited way.

Evidence shows he stopped shipment of gas by marking it with no good and ordering it buried.

But, according to Wygoda, his main effort was to alert the world outside Germany to concentration camp horrors.

A Lutheran, he got word to German Bishop Otto Dibelius of his church. Dibelius in turn issued at the Nuernberg war-

Many Goldwater Supporters on Platform Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the Republican platform committee, Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin, said Monday that the group probably will have a majority of supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater but this does not mean it will write a Goldwater platform.

The Arizona senator is the leading contender for the Republican presidential nomination.

Laird told a National Press Club luncheon he did not expect the deliberations of his committee to be dominated by Goldwater or any other one person and that the platform it writes will not be "a Goldwater platform, a Scranton platform, a Rockefeller platform but a Republican platform."

After his talk Laird was asked if it would be possible for Goldwater, who voted against the civil rights bill and called parts of it unconstitutional, to promise as a candidate to carry out the bill's provisions. Laird said he sees no reason why Goldwater could not do so.

He said Goldwater respects the Constitution which requires the President to execute laws made by Congress.

52-Unit Motel Scheduled for Club Terrace

Building to Cost Over $500,000; Work to Start Soon

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Construction of a 52-unit motel at the Club Terrace west of Appleton, costing more than $500,000, will get underway soon, it was learned today.

The club is located at 3013 W. Prospect Ave. in the Town of Grand Chute.

In addition to building the motel including an indoor pool and banquet room with facilities for serving 550 persons — the present supper club will be completely remodeled.

The major building project was confirmed today by Albert B. (Bernie) Smith, 1809 Kenneth Ave., Kaukauna, one of the owners. Smith formerly operated Bernie's Supper Club.

Approval Expected

Approval of the building plans is expected any time from the State Industrial Commission, Smith said.

The plans will call for the supper club, motel and other facilities to be included in one building.

"Everything will be completely new," Smith said.

A ground-breaking ceremony is slated for later this week and actual construction work will begin shortly after.

Smith said it is hoped to have the motel completed by late December.

Further Announcement

He indicated there would be further announcement concerning the building project after plans have been okayed by the state.

In Appleton, the building inspector this week issued permits for new construction totaling more than $135,000.

Circle Machine and Supply Co., 230 S. Linwood Ave., is building a $75,000 warehouse addition which will have 17,787 square feet of floor space.

The building, which will be erected in an area zoned for heavy industry, will measure 154 by 122 feet and be 12 feet high. It will be of masonry construction. Al Utschig is the general contractor.

A new office building is being erected at 137-39, 201-47 N. Richmond St. for the firm of Tschank and Christensen at a cost of $50,000.

Six Offices

Measuring 120 by 60 feet, the building will have six offices spread over an area of 16,000 square feet. There will also be a parking area next to the new office building.

A building permit was issued to Sam Malofsky for a new store building to cost $10,000 at 715 W. Wisconsin Avenue. The type of commercial operation to be located there was not given. Pierce Auto Body Works obtained a permit to have a residence razed at 223 S. Pierce St. The firm intends to use the cleared property for parking facilities for employees and customers.

A permit was issued L. and R. Inc. to raze a warehouse at 116 N. Locust St.

Public Works Board Orders Garage Plans

Preliminary construction plans for Appleton's new municipal garage were ordered prepared Tuesday by the board of public works.

It has been estimated the new garage, to be located in the southwest sector of the city near the industrial park, will cost $800,000.

A proposed layout for the new facility, listing various space allocations for city departments, was given final approval by the board.

The layout was prepared by Orhison and Orhison, Inc., Appleton engineers.

To be constructed of steel and masonry block, the garage will have a motor pool for municipal vehicles, machine shop, offices and separate areas for various departments assigned to the building.

It also will include a pistol range costing between $15,000 and $20,000.

Start of construction is planned for this fall.

Woman Finds $785 — It's Worthless Check

Mrs. James Brown, 314 S. Outagamie St., found a check for $785.11 in her back yard Tuesday.

Police, however, examined the draft, made out to the Union Bank of Wisconsin from First Wisconsin National Bank of Milwaukee, and found it to be worthless.

They said the perforated check probably had blown off a scrap paper truck.

Ring in 'Old,' Ring Out 'New' At Lawrence University

Name Change Becomes Official, Lots of Things Must be Changed

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

Of Lawrence University

A lot of things are going out of style at Lawrence today.

This is the day the name Lawrence College becomes obsolete. No one is taking any bets, however, on the length of time actually required to eradicate it from the working vocabulary.

After ten months of preparation, the merger between Lawrence and Milwaukee-Downer colleges becomes an actuality, and the name Lawrence University of Wisconsin appears in their separate steads. And with a name change comes housecleaning—The Time of the Bulging Wastebasket.

"Tight" Is Watchword

The housecleaning, however, is being conducted within reason, for the alma mater hymn has long been paraphrased, "Tight is our Lawrence watchword."

So when it comes to the 19,000 letter-sized and 17,000 pamphlet-sized envelopes all boldly imprinted Lawrence College, they'll be used up, never fear.

Mrs. Raymond Graupman, secretary to the business manager and guardian of the institution's office supplies, expects it will take about five years before the last bit of obsolete paper dribbles out.

Ghost of College

With ten months to plan for the name changeover, most supplies were gauged for depletion by today. The central printing office at Lawrence figured things so closely that there were only two reams of Lawrence College stationery to last the whole institution during the last week, and the alumni office ran out of nametags at commencement reunions.

However, some things like envelopes are purchased in several-year supplies, and that is where the ghost of Lawrence College will linger on.

What sort of thing becomes dated when an institution changes its name? Oddly enough, very few things on the physical campus itself.

University Avenue?

At Lawrence, there are only a couple of signs that need to be changed: a brass plaque at the west entrance of the library that still proclaims it to be a college; a painted sign hanging at Union Street and College, technically now obsolete, though it is doubtful if anyone cares; and a construction billboard at Youngchild Hall of Science.

The campus's main identifier as a college disappeared a year ago when individual metal letters were vandalized from the decorative gateway at College and Drew Street. The sign will soon reappear, corrected and vandal-proof.

But in the little artifacts that accumulate at a school, and in the dozens of forms for its paper work—that is where the damage is done. Souvenirs in local shops—Lawrence College mugs, wastebaskets, laundry bags, sweatshirts, blazers, stationery, pennants and decals—are now only historic curios.

The institutional seal and all decorative devices must be altered back to the form used 50 years ago when Lawrence University became Lawrence College.

Records Stay Obsolete

More than a thousand tapes of radio music from Lawrence must be removed from circulation, because the announcing uses the old name. All the permanent records in the registrar's vault become obsolete. "And they're going to stay that way,"

Legal Action Threatened to Halt Plamann Park Road

Appleton Moves to Acquire Land for Road Improvement

Intends to Authorize Work on Widening, Extension Projects

Appleton officials took another legal step Tuesday to complete acquisition of properties needed for two major municipal improvements.

The city intends to authorize work soon on the Prospect Avenue-Memorial Drive intersection widening and the Washington-Franklin streets extension.

Meeting at the city hall Tuesday afternoon, the board of public works was informed the Outagamie County sheriff had been requested to serve jurisdictional offers on some owners of land who have been reluctant to sell to the city.

Board members also were informed of an unusual development in which the city arrived at terms with one property owner through an attorney only to have another lawyer take over negotiations and invalidate a verbal agreement which had been arrived at between the parties.

City officials said Harold Mares, who owns property at the southeast corner of Prospect and Memorial, failed to answer a letter in which the city requested further negotiations.

Mares, leading objector to the intersection project, has been offered $8,100 for a piece of land, the price to include damages.

20 Days to Reply

City Atty. Frederick Froehlich informed the board the post office was unsuccessful on two occasions in delivering a registered letter to Mares and could not locate him.

Froehlich said he then requested the sheriff to serve the jurisdictional offer on Mares, along with another property owner, Mrs. Louise Sawall, 707 W. Prospect Ave.

The property owners will have 20 days in which to accept or reject the city's final offer. If the offers are not accepted by then, the city attorney will file them with the court and take possession of the land.

Residents, if they desire, can appeal their cases to the court and have the latter set a price

Outagamie County Board Urged to Rescind Ruling That Allowed Construction

BY DICK LYNES Post-Crescent Staff Writer

If the Outagamie County Board doesn't rescind its action allowing Town of Grand Chute Chairman Arthur Lecker to build a road across the south end of Plamann Park, the widow of the man who donated the park land may start legal action to stop it.

Mrs. Robert (Clara) Plamann said Tuesday if the county board allows the road to remain, she will consider a lawsuit to have the property withdrawn from use as a park and to have it revert back to her family and its heirs.

In addition, four petitions are being circulated among county residents requesting the county board to reconsider its action at the July 14 meeting.

Construction Halted

The road causing all the controversy was being built west from Apple Creek Road to property owned by Mary Lecker and Mrs. Henry Vermeere, daughters of Lecker. Construction has been stopped on the road, which has 66 feet of right-of-way, and is 742 feet long.

Permission for building the road was given to Lecker by the county board at its April meeting. The county granted an easement to the town to allow the road through the south end of the park and Lecker said he would pay the construction costs.

Lecker explained to the county board that "the road would be beneficial to the park itself and to people who would be using that section of the park."

Construction of the road began June 11, but was stopped five days later after heated objections to the road were voiced at a town board meeting.

Seeks Hearing

The road crosses a deep ravine in the park which is the bed of Apple Creek itself. Town residents said they knew nothing about the road until construction began.

The town board passed a resolution asking the county board to hear objectors' protests and to reconsider its action.

Lecker has said the road is "needed for fire protection in case there would be grass fire or a woods fire back there in that part of the park."

"And besides," he said, "the Boy Scouts have expressed an interest in having a shelter house in that part of the park."

Suggest New Southside Park For Appleton

Board Disapproves Of Offer to Buy Land Near Hoover

The park board was told Tuesday that Appleton needs another park on the southside—not an addition to Hoover Park.

The stand was taken by members of the board of public works who rejected a realtor's offer to sell eight lots to the city for $14,000.

It was pointed out that if the city purchased the undeveloped lots next to Hoover Park, it would have an additional $10,000 to put in utilities.

Hoover Park at present has baseball diamonds but no shaded park area. The eight lots generally represent wooded land.

Park board members said they would favor purchasing the land if the price were lower.

However, Ald. Harold Hanne-mann (10th) said Hoover Park has 11 acres and is big enough. He said the city has no park on the southside west of Oneida Street and urged the park board to start thinking about planning one there.

"I think the park board should definitely forget about adding onto Hoover Park and look for another site to establish another park on the southside," Hanne-mann said.

Family-type Area

Art Jones, park board secretary, said if a new park is to be established the time to obtain the land was now "before it's spoken for."

Jones admitted that although Hoover Park was to be a family-type recreation area, it eventually was laid out for baseball diamonds.

"The council did not buy the land for Hoover Park to be used for baseball diamonds," commented Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th).

The board unanimously rejected the realtor's offer to sell the city land for a Hoover Park addition and forwarded its recommendation to the common council.

Goldwater Support In Long, Wide Arc

Could Win Without Aid From East

BY LARRY OSIUS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater could win the Republican presidential nomination without help from the Eastern Seaboard if delegates now credited to him stay in his camp.

Most of the Arizona senator's delegate support is in a wide-swinging arc encompassing the South, Southwest and West and, to a lesser degree, the Midwest, according to an Associated Press survey.

The survey of the 1,308 delegates to the convention opening July 13 in San Francisco credits Goldwater with 708 first-ballot votes, 53 more than the 655 needed for the nomination if he holds them.

Of this total, 44 come from 12 Northeastern states and the District of Columbia. If he had none of these he still would have enough for the nomination, barring defections.

The AP survey shows 118 delegates committed to Goldwater by primary election laws, 257 instructed by state or district conventions, 62 personally pledged to him, and 271 who favor him but are not bound or pledged to him.

His closest competitor, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, has 145 first ballot votes, none of which are instructed or pledged to the governor.

Here's a rundown by geographical areas, according to the AP survey:

Although he has a scattering of votes in most of them, Goldwater so far has mustered only 11 per cent of the 355 delegate votes allotted to Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

In his own Southwest, the senator has a perfect score—all of the 106 delegates in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

In 11 Southern states, with 247 delegates, Goldwater has 213, or 86 per cent. They are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

Out West Goldwater has fared almost as well, getting the nod from 183, or 81 per cent, of the 226 delegates in Alaska, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

In the Midwest, where such large state delegations as Ohio and Wisconsin are holding their first-ballot votes for favorite-son candidates, Goldwater has 43 per cent of the delegates. He is the stated choice of 160 of the

Truce Reached In Turmoil at St. Augustine

Secret Committee Seeks Remedy for Racial Strife

BY DON NORTH
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Racial peace returned to St. Augustine today after a month of turmoil.

Both sides in the dispute agreed to a truce while a secret biracial committee attempts to find a middle ground.

The truce is aimed at ending for at least two weeks the marathon series of demonstrations that resulted in more than 300 arrests and scores of injuries in brawls on the streets and the beaches.

Assault Leaders

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who is leading the assault against racial barriers here, told a jubilant Negro rally Tuesday night that a victory had been scored.

"The purpose of our direct action was to create a crisis, a tension, to bring our case out in the open, so that they would talk to us about it," he said. "Now they have agreed to do that."

Gov. Farris Bryant said he had named the committee to function until a permanent biracial committee is established as recommended June 18 by a county grand jury. He declined to identify the interim group's members.

Committee Members

King said the committee was made up of two whites and two Negroes. He said their names were withheld to protect them from harassment.

King said he had called a halt to demonstrations to show good faith.

The leaders of white segregationists also accepted the truce.

Holsted Manuay said a Ku Klux Klan rally scheduled July 4 has been canceled.

Manuay, who disclaims membership in the KK, advised his followers not to engage in violence during this truce period.

Illinois Win Gives Boost To Backers

BY CHARLES J. WHALEN
CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater's smashing success with the Illinois delegation prompted his backers today to renew predictions of an early ballot victory for the Republican presidential nomination.

Goldwater was jubilant after winning 48 of the 58 Illinois delegates to the Republican National Convention while Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton failed to pick up a single vote.

"This is the biggest boost for Goldwater's campaign since the California primary," said Hayes Robertson, a staunch Goldwater delegate and former Cook County GOP chairman.

Illinois Vote

Robertson and other Goldwater supporters said the strong Illinois vote for the Arizona senator would have national impact and "should result in an easy first-ballot victory" for him.

The poll of delegates was taken after Goldwater and Scranton made separate appearances before the group at closed-door sessions Tuesday.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, who had been uncommitted, started the momentum for Goldwater by casting the first vote for him.

Before the meeting, Goldwater's Illinois strength had been listed at 39 votes in surveys by The Associated Press.

The 10 delegates who did not support Goldwater in Tuesday's session declined to back any candidate.

Scranton Disappointed

Scranton, although obviously disappointed, contended his poor showing did not deal a fatal blow to his candidacy. He said his decision to address the Illinois delegation was intended to "arouse the public" and not to gain delegates at this time.

He said the overwhelming Goldwater support in the Illinois delegation "did not surprise me or shock me."

Goldwater, although elated over the outcome, would not claim the nomination was wrapped up.

Goldwater said he thought he has "maybe 690" delegates, or 35 more than required for the nomination, but added he would like a bigger insurance margin.

An Associated Press survey showed Tuesday that Goldwater now has 705 committed, instructed, pledged or favorable delegates, which is 50 more than needed for the nomination—if none of the delegates stray. Goldwater's closest pursuer, the survey showed, is Scranton with 141 delegates.

State Journal Supports Scranton

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin State Journal announced its support today of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for the Republican nomination for president.

The newspaper called Scranton "the man on the scene if Republicans are to keep the party modern, moderate, and responsible." In its lead editorial, the independent Republican newspaper asked GOP convention delegates to turn away from "the negative way of Sen. Barry Goldwater."

Ailing Shastri Still Bedfast

NEW DELHI (AP) — Ailing Shastri put in several hours on pressing state affairs at his home today, still bed-ridden from a reported heart attack five days ago.

Informants said the 59-year-old Indian leader is sitting up in bed, signing papers, making decisions on urgent matters and conferring with government officials.

Separate Services For Crash Victims

EDGAR, Wis. (AP)—Separate funeral services were scheduled today for two infant cousins who died in accidents.

Loring Kaiser, the 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kaiser of Edgar, was killed in an auto crash Sunday.

The child's second cousin, Trace Marie Kaiser, the 2½-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kaiser of Emmett Township in Marathon County, died Monday of food strangulation.

Little Mississippi Town, In National Spotlight About Back to Normal

Search Continues for Three Missing Civil Rights Workers

BY PHIL ORAMOUS
PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) —This little town—cast into national prominence 10 days ago by the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers—is almost back to normal.

The search for the missing trio goes on.

There are no more anxious groups of residents crowding street corners. Discussion of the mysterious disappearance is limited to quick questions and occasional wokes.

Week Ago

A week ago today, a large force of FBI agents, state highway patrolmen and other investigators moved into Philadelphia to comb the hills and swamps of Neshoba County for clues in the disappearance of Michael Schwerner and Andrew Goodman, two white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Negro from nearby Meridian.

Dungaree-clad sailors from the Navy's air field at Meridian joined the search by order of President Johnson.

The trio—part of a task force working on a summer-long Negro voter registration campaign in this racially troubled state—were last seen the night of June 21 after posting $20 bond when jailed on a speeding charge.

Residents Resentful

Residents of Neshoba — it means "wolf" in Choctaw—were at first resentful of the invasion by investigators and nearly 100 newsmen.

"We're not accustomed to large numbers of strangers descending upon us at once and asking a lot of questions," said a local businessman.

Last week it was difficult to tell if a warning to stay off the streets after dark was a warning or just friendly advice.

At Jackson, civil rights leaders announced they had dropped plans to send volunteer college students into parts of the state because of a "pattern of terror and vigilantism in the whole southwest and in the area north-east of Jackson."

Staff Workers

Robert Moes, director of the Council of Federated Organizations' summer project, said paid staff workers — more experienced in civil rights work than the volunteers—probably would be sent into southwest Mississippi to assess the situation.

CORO is coordinating the civil rights drive by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Congress of Racial Equality, the Students Non-Violent Coordinating Committee and the Commission on Race and Religion of the National Council of Churches.

Transit Systems Aid Program Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a five-year fight, Congress has passed its first program of federal aid for commuter mass transit systems.

President Johnson had strongly backed the measure.

Final congressional action came Tuesday when the Senate voted 47 to 36 to accept House changes in the bill, which provides $375 million in grants to cities and states over the next three years.

Transit Systems

Sponsors said it should help at least a few cities to rebuild or halt the decline of transit systems that have suffered from competition with the automobile. Opponents called transit a local problem, and contended it would cost $10 billion for the federal government to undertake to meet all needs in the field.

Under the legislation, Washington would put up two-thirds of the net cost of any project. The state or city would provide the remaining one-third.

The federal funds could be used to buy land, right-of-way, parking facilities, buses, rail cars, signal equipment, stations and terminals.

Mill Closing Report Branded Falsehood

Strange Carton Denies Oshkosh Northwestern Claim of Dissolution

MENASHA — A report printed in the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern June 30 stating John Strange Carton Co. was being dissolved and was going out of business was labeled as completely false today by William Ellerton, general manager for the firm.

The John Strange Carton Co. will be in business as usual, Ellerton said.

The report printed at Oshkosh said "Articles dissolving the John Strange Carton Company have been filed in the office of Bernice L. Fuller, register of deeds, marking the end of a Fox Valley firm."

Ellerton said the move was nothing more than an inter-company reorganization, a book-keeping procedure.

He said the Menasha firm will be called John Strange Carton Co., a division of Consolidated Packaging Corp. The Strange firm became a wholly owned division of Consolidated July 16, 1963. Before this time the Monroe parent firm had been known as Consolidated Paper Co. It now is Consolidated Packaging Corp.

Consolidated Paper Co. has manufacturing plants and field offices in the east, midwest and south. The firm's paper capacity is substantially in excess of 1,000 tons per day and includes

Psychologist Talks at Neenah

Doctor Prescribes Happiness

BY MIKE PETRICK
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — A law in psychology states "learning that is associated with pleasant feelings is the best kind of learning."

Dr. Murray Banks, New York City psychologist and author and humorist demonstrated that law amply in a talk to 135 Neenah Rotarians, Rotary Anns and guests at the North Shore Golf Club Tuesday night.

In his address, "What to Do Before the Psychiatrist Comes," Banks managed to give his prescriptions for happiness a sugar coating of humor. His talk given more than 5,000 times in North America, Europe, Africa and Australia, is the second most frequently presented address in the world.

Banks' remarks were alternations of wit and wisdom. But he was often most effective in emphasizing wisdom. A potpourri with the anecdote followed by an analysis follows.

A woman on her deathbed confided to her husband, "Darling, I must tell you that I have not been true to you." The husband replies, "Darling, why do you think I poisoned you?"

(No matter what a person does, there is always a reason behind it.)

A salesman tells a housewife, "Madam, this machine will add 20 years to your life." The woman responds, "Deliver it at once."

"People want to live — forever, if possible."

An Irishman asked a Jew, "Why do Jews always answer a question with another question?" The Jew replied, "Why wouldn't we?"

(Let a person retain his feeling of importance, don't offend his ego by saying, "It's none of your business.")

A young man wants to buy some perfume for his sweetheart and asks the price of a fragrance called "Perhaps." The scent costs $40 an ounce. "For that price, it should be called 'Absolutely,'" he says.

(Everyone wants to be loved, unfortunately, there are more people wanting to be loved than willing to do the loving.)

A girl goes out with a homey fellow. What do people say? "He's got character. On him it doesn't show, but he's got it!"

(Emphasis on looks often leads to a choice of mates with qualities not necessarily those of a good wife, mother, husband or father.)

An 82-year-old man got married. A few days later he started to look for a house near a school.

(Be an optimist. A zest for life at any age is a sign of good mental hygiene.)

A group of relatives were gathered in a lawyer's office waiting to hear the will of a late kinsman. The will read, "Being of sound mind, I spent all my money while I was alive."

(Give attention to your life to the present, don't worry about what might happen in the future.)

A psychiatrist asked a mentally ill patient, "Who do you think you are?" He answered, "I am Napoleon. The psychiatrist asked, 'Who told you that?' The answer was, 'God told me.' Then a voice from the next bed declared, 'I did not.'"

(Beware of feeling too important, there is always someone who feels more important than you do.)

With his unique approach to the problem of mental illness, Banks drove home his point: "Never forget that life is like climbing a slippery glass hill. We climb and we slip. We climb a little more and slip again. Everyone has sorrow, disappointment, tragedy and frustration. But the measure of a man is not whether you slip, but what you do when you slip."

Menasha Students Arrested For Hazing Youths in Park

MENASHA — The first effects to investigate. When a patrol of a promised city-wide crack-down on hazing of students were felt Tuesday with the arrest of two Menasha teenagers at Smith Park boat dock for throwing students into the Fox River.

Police Chief Lester Clark said a girl's wrist was injured when she was thrown into the river.

The youths will be referred to juvenile authorities, police said. Police also said the youths will make restitution for the wrist.

Parents Responsible

Chief Clark said when announcing the crackdown that all hazing would be arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities.

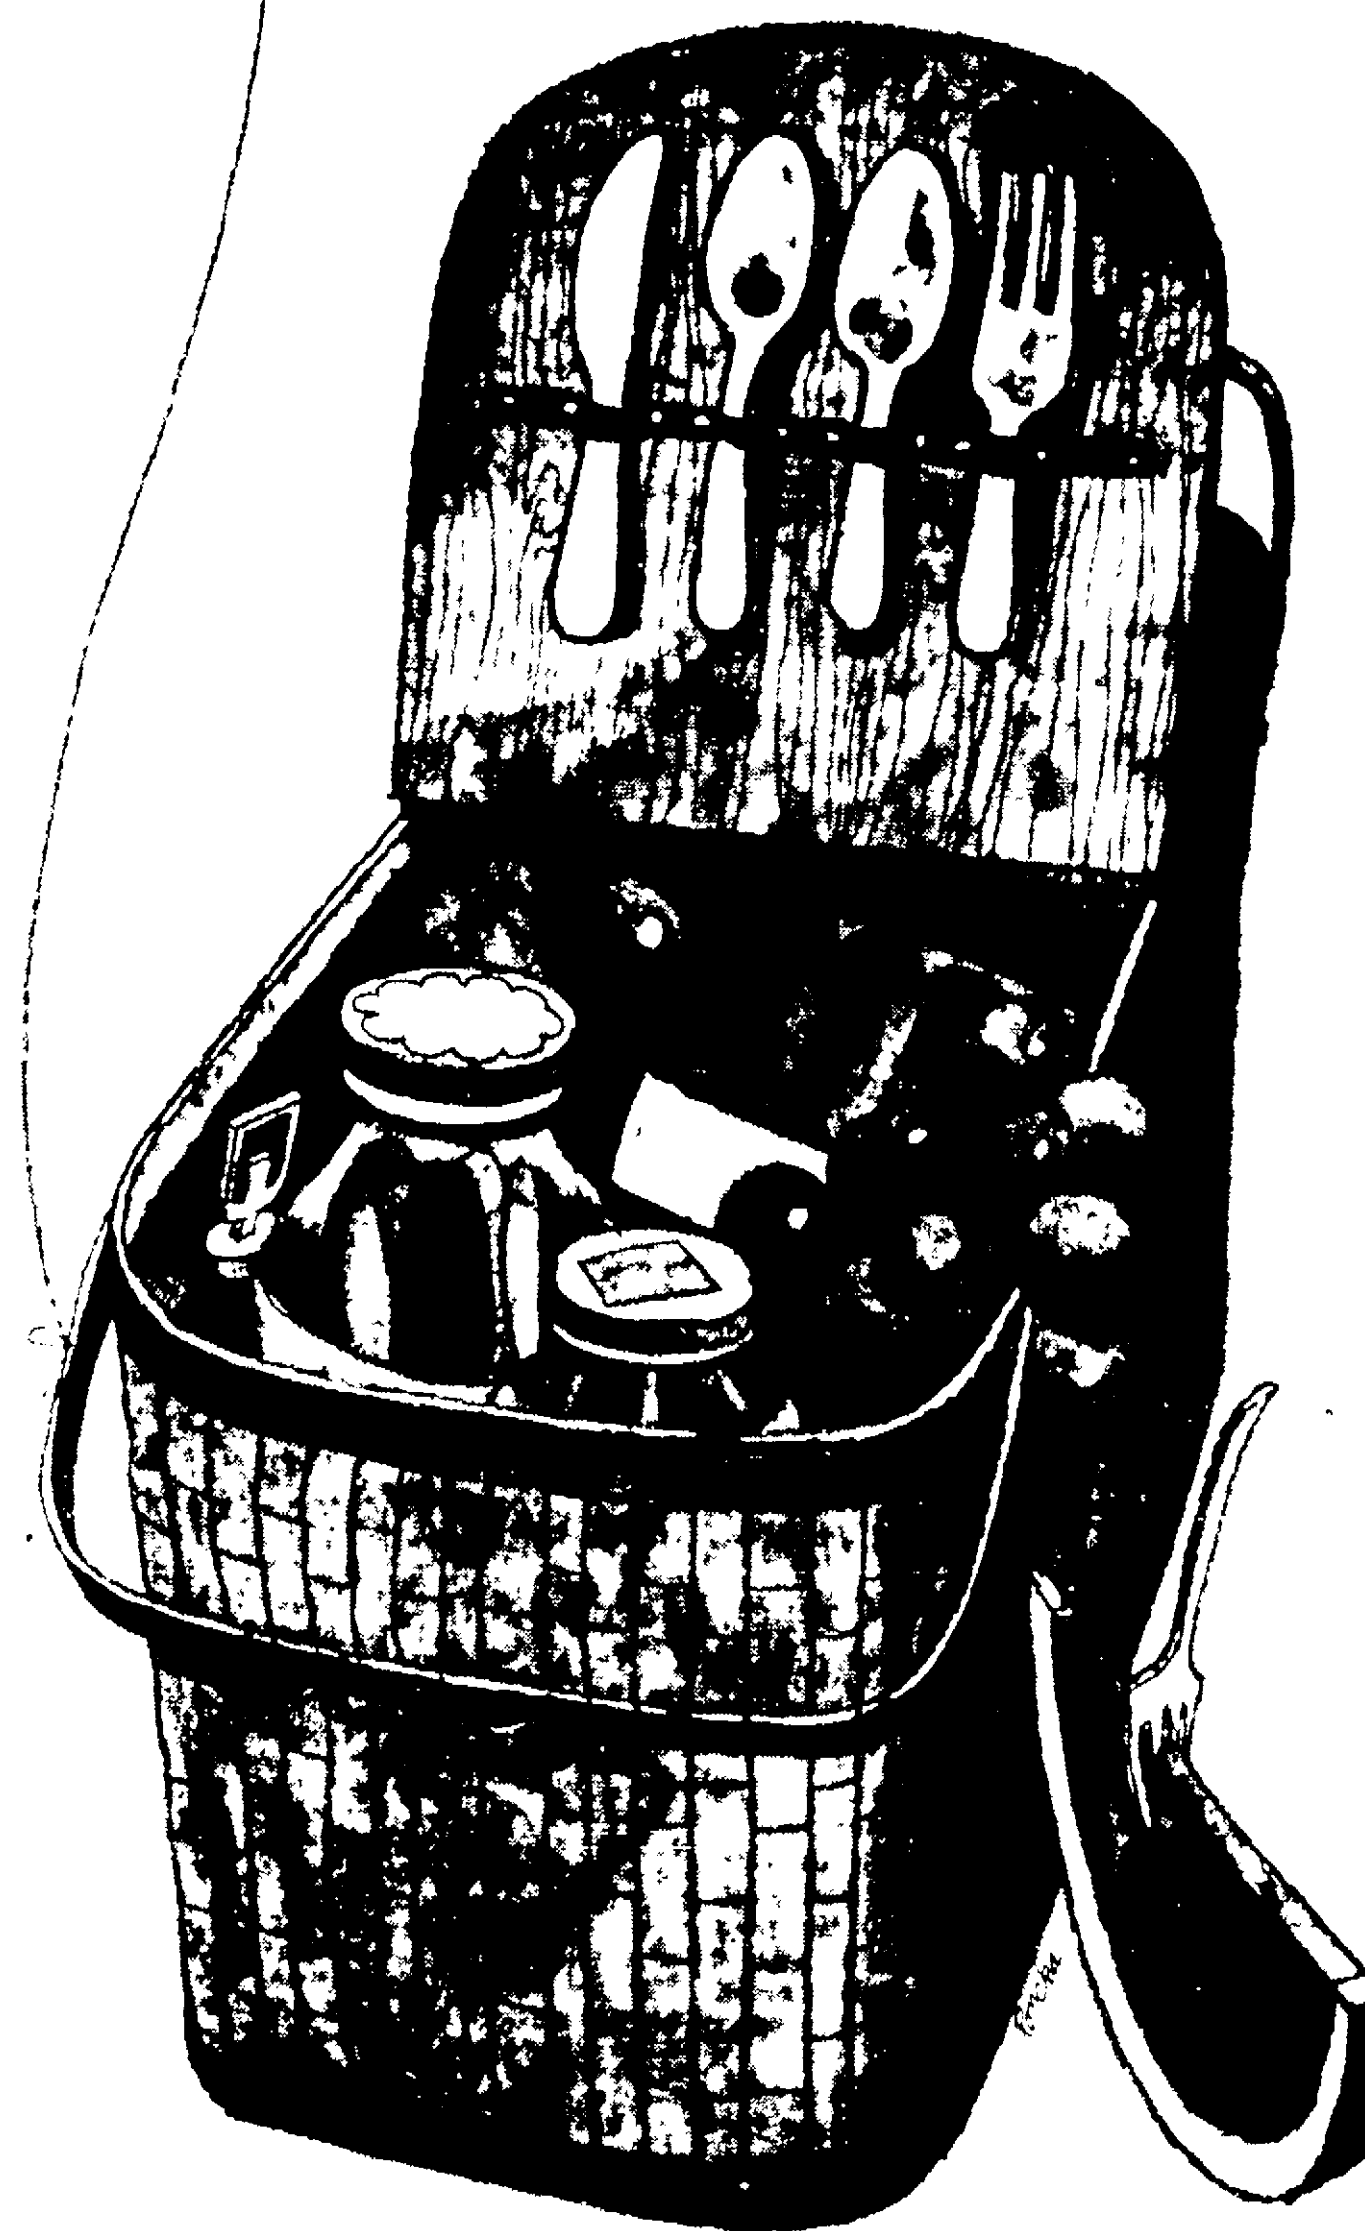

His statement followed an incident in which a freshman girl was thrown into the river and suffered possible injuries.

Dunking Girls

Police Tuesday discovered hazing from the far side of the river at Paris and Manitowish. Police said parents of youngsters involved in hazing will be notified and a squad car held responsible.

Residents Balk at Cost Hike in Sewage Service

Town of Menasha in Sanitary District No. 2 Objects to Increase of $600

Residents in Sanitary District along with the $2,400 city sewer No. 2 in the Town of Menasha charge, or join sanitary have objected to a $600 increase district No. 4.

In the cost of Appleton sewage treatment services provided them on an annual contract basis.

A spokesman for the district told the board of public works Tuesday he did not think the city was justified in boosting the cost from 1,800 to $2,400 a year.

At one point he indicated an alternative to paying the charge would be to join sanitary district No. 4 in the Town of Menasha.

Appleton officials indicated that if the township residents wanted to take such action, they would have no objection.

Defends Increase

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues defended the city's $600 increase, describing it as "quite conservative."

Bues said Appleton has completed construction of a major sewage plant addition and operating costs have increased considerably as a result. He said costs were being pro-rated on the basis of the number of home and industrial units served by the plant.

Bues said in 1960 it cost the city $93,700 to operate the sewage plant while this year it is expected to be $179,000.

The city started serving the portion of the township with sewage in 1959 for $1,800 a year.

"Maybe the time has come for you people to design your own system now," Ald. Harold Hannemann (10th) told the township representative.

Petition Pending

Hannemann said that there is a petition pending before the common council to open Cherry Court. He said the city also had residents in the Garden Court area to provide with services.

He suggested that Bues confer with officials of sanitary district No. 2 and the township innocent, and trial was set for to see what arrangement could be worked out to have Appleton serve its residents and the Town of Menasha take care of charge of forging a $72 check, and sentencing was scheduled.

In the meantime, district No. 2 will decide whether to

Two Men Admit Charges of Check Forgery

Oshkosh Resident Gets Probation In Outagamie Court

Two men pleaded guilty to charges of forgery in separate hearings in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Tuesday.

Milton Henry Ehlers, 45, 201 Smith St. Oshkosh, appeared on charges of writing a worthless check and forgery. The drafts involved were for $250 and $20.

He previously was sentenced to one year in the Winnebago County jail, and 20 years in prison for similar offenses in Winnebago and Fond du Lac counties. However, these sentences were stayed in lieu of five years probation and restitution.

Three Year Probation

Outagamie County Judge Gustave Keller sentenced Ehlers to a total of three years probation to run concurrently with the Winnebago terms, with the provision he make restitution.

Ehlers was brought to Outagamie County by Winnebago County authorities, and was returned to Oshkosh following Tuesday's proceedings.

Phillip J. Peters 28, a former West DePere resident, was returned to Outagamie County from New York to face charges of non-support and forgery.

Had Plead Innocent

Originally Peters had pleaded innocent, and trial was set for to see what arrangement could be worked out to have Appleton serve its residents and the Town of Menasha take care of charge of forging a $72 check, and sentencing was scheduled.

In the meantime, district No. 2 will decide whether to

Threaten Legal Action To Halt Road Building

and they would need access. When the shelter house is built, we'd have to have a service road go back there anyway."

Clifford Wolslegel, 1710 Apple Creek Road, whose home the road passes within 20 feet, says the original resolution "was improperly presented to the county board and passed at its April 12 meeting."

"Many supervisors were deceived when they voted on the resolution," Wolslegel said, "because they didn't know what they were voting on."

He said the original Apple Creek comes across the park in a southerly direction, "cuts across my property and then it goes out again into the park. By putting in his road, he's filled in the creek and re-routed it. And we have another ditch behind our house that he completely filled. This ditch connects with Apple Creek," Wolslegel said.

He claimed that by filling in the creek Lecker has initiated a flooding problem when the water is high during spring.

Mrs. Wolslegel said objectors to the road "run into stone walls, wherever they go" because "he (Lecker) is a member of the county board, town chairman, chairman of the county board's park committee and a member of the regional planning commission. Every group that we could go to in order to complain has Lecker as a member."

Plans to Sub-divide
Mrs. Plamann said Lecker already has access to the approximately 180 acres of land which he admits he plans to plat and sub-divide.

Lecker's land has frontage on Meade and Broadway streets.

"But," Lecker said, "if I was to put in an access road from either Meade or Broadway, it would have to be a three-fourths mile road instead of a 742-foot road."

Mr. and Mrs. Wolslegel also have complained that the road passes within 20 feet of the northwest corner of their house. According to Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission recommendations and the Outagamie County zoning ordinance, adopted by the Town of Grand Chute, a home must have a 37-foot setback from a town road.

County Highway Commissioner Clarence Brownson said formal application for the road construction never went to him or to the highway committee.

'Town's Responsibility'
Brownson said he knew the road was to have a 66-foot right-of-way which, he said, "is permissible." But Brownson said he didn't know how close the road would be to Wolslegel's home.

"It's the town's responsibility to enforce the zoning ordinance," Brownson said.

Lecker said the ordinance "says a home cannot be built within 20 feet of a road, but doesn't say anything is wrong with building a road 20 feet from a house."

Elvy Lillge, a son-in-law of Mrs. Plamann, said no legal action would be started if the creek is cut through again "and the roadway is re-seeded and allowed to return back to its original state." Mrs. Plamann said a fence must be returned so that the park is completely encircled by it.

Lecker said that if the county board decides to order the road project abandoned, "neither me or my daughters should have to pay for any of the costs."

'Acted in Good Faith'
"Why should my daughters foot the bill if they don't get a road?" Lecker asked, "because we all acted in good faith."

The petitions being passed around the town state:

"The undersigned, Clara Plamann, and the undersigned residents of Outagamie County, respectively represent to the county board that they object to the granting of the easement for construction of a roadway

Lightning Plus Wind Cause Line Damage

Loss of telephone service and scattered minor damage resulted from wind and thunderstorms Tuesday night in the Fox Cities.

Wisconsin Telephone Co. reported about 100 phones out of service in scattered areas on the southeast side of Appleton today.

The company said it expected service to be restored today.

Kaukauna Electrical and Water Department reported two short electrical outages when this condition, such breach shall work a forfeiture of said lands and the title shall revert to the donors, their heirs and assigns together with all the improvements thereon."

The land for the park was donated to the county by the Plamann family in March, 1956.

Two Small Girls Hurt In Appleton Traffic Accidents Tuesday

Two small girls were hurt in separate traffic accidents in Appleton Tuesday afternoon.

Fred Kaplan, 26, Brooklyn, N. Y., told police he was driving northwest on E. John Street when Kathy Van DerWeilen, 8, 2729 E. Newberry, darted out in front of the car.

The child was treated by a family physician for a bruised right arm. Kaplan said he had slowed down when he saw a group of children at the curb near Mead Park Pool, but could not avoid hitting the girl.

Dede Spilman, 9, 820 E. Washington St., was treated for scrapes on her back after she was struck by a car on the E. College Avenue bridge late Tuesday afternoon.

Nona I. Peterson, 921 N. Owaissa, told police the girl crossed the roadway in the middle of the bridge.

Seymour Youth Drowns in Lake

Cunningham, flailing about, kicked her in the chin.

Pat Dey, 17, Seymour, swam to Cunningham to help, but he grabbed her suit and pulled her under. She tore free, and Cunningham again screamed for help.

Last Time
Mrs. John Sustman, Green Bay, and Mrs. Francis Bruck, route 2, Kaukauna, grabbed the youth, but he pulled them, too, beneath the water.

Finally, by this time in water about eight feet deep, Cunningham went under for the last time.

The body of the young man was dragged onto an air mattress, and towed to shore by Harvey Johnson, Menasha, and Al Bauck, 712 S. Oneida St., Appleton.

Judy Dryden, 18, Black Creek, for almost 40 minutes, administered mouth-to-mouth respiration. Cunningham did not respond. The Black Creek Fire Department rescue squad arrived and gave artificial respiration and oxygen. They worked for almost one-half hour after the youth was pronounced dead.

Open Few Weeks
The lake was built by Black Creek Advancement Association and has only been open a few weeks.

Association President Bob Turkow said the group met Tuesday night to discuss the pool's operation.

The swimming area is marked at depths of two, four and six feet.

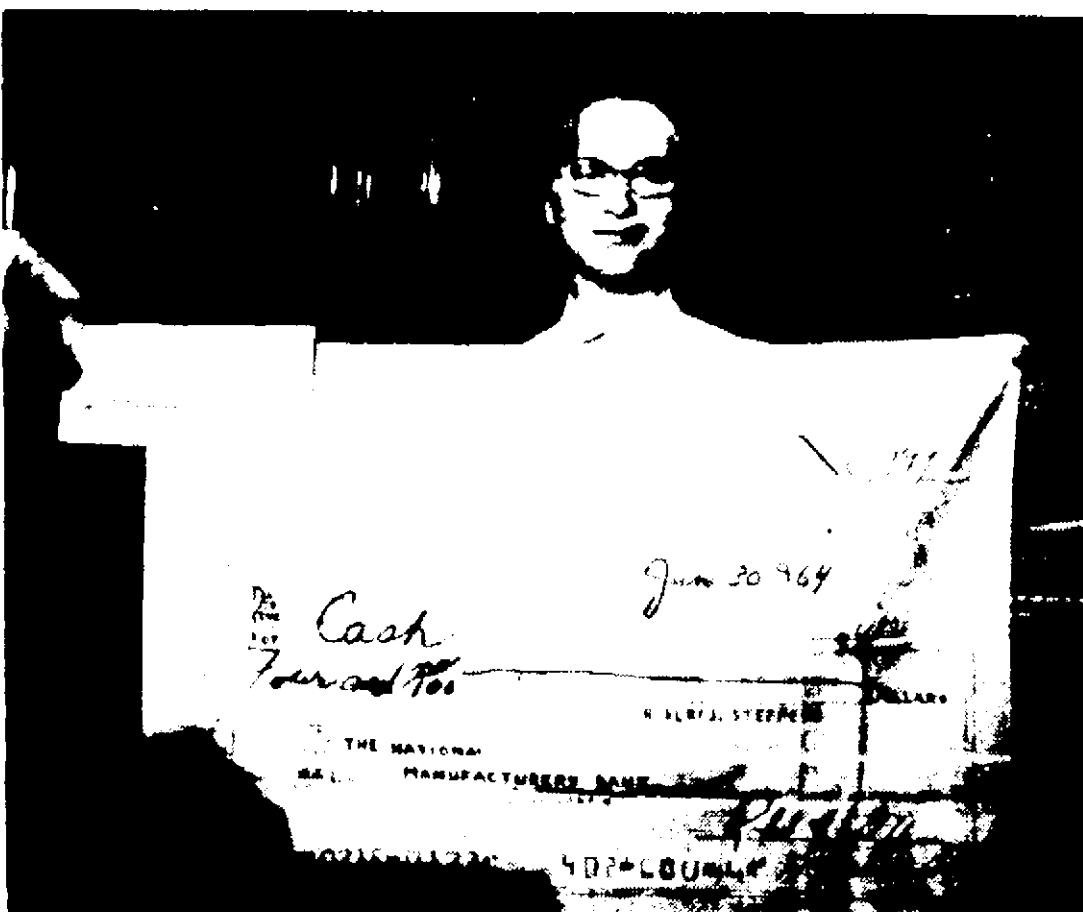

Funeral services have been scheduled for 3 p.m. Friday at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Seymour, with burial in the parish cemetery.

Cunningham was born Dec. 27, 1946, at Waukesha. The family moved to Seymour in October, 1963.

He was a 1964 graduate of Seymour Community High School and was employed by Mielke Motor Co., Seymour.

Survivors include his parents, three brothers and his maternal grandmother.

Friends may call at the Muehl Funeral Home after 2 p.m. Thursday until 9:30 a.m. Friday, then at the church until services.

An Unusual But Negotiable instrument has been received for collection at the National Manufacturers Bank, Neenah. Robert Steffens, a student at Wisconsin State University-Whitewater and a depositor at the Neenah bank, turned in this reproduction of his usual paper check — done on a pillowcase — at a Whitewater bank. An employee of the Neenah bank, Mrs. Ralph Rieckmann, displays the check. Bank officials commented Steffens "probably did it just to see if it would work." It did. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Motion Picture Camera Disappears From Shelf

Police today were searching for clues in the disappearance of an imported, professional type of motion picture camera from an Appleton camera store.

Kenneth Berner, manager and co-owner of the Camera Exchange, 324 W. College Ave., said he noticed the camera, a Swiss-made Bolex, worth about $420, was missing from an open display shelf in the store Tuesday.

Berner said the camera, a used model, is too large for most amateur use, but is frequently used for sports and action photography.

He said he is notifying camera dealers in other cities to be alert for the camera, which is a type most dealers do not stock.

2 Minor Fires Put Out By Appleton Firemen

Appleton firemen put out two minor fires late Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. Smith, 1101 E. Pershing St., reported rubbish burning along the curb in front of her home. Authorities said the flames may have been set by children.

A Chicago and North Western Railway train was believed to have started a grass fire along the company's right of way at Charlotte and Randall.

Village Glass Pick-Up Schedule Changed

KIMBERLY — Glass pick-up normally held Friday afternoon will be moved up to Thursday this week because of the holiday on Saturday, according to Eugene Hietpas, street department foreman.

Section one which is the east side of Pine Street to the east limits of the village is due to be collected this week.

Man Admits Car Thefts; Held in Chilton

Milton Molter
Also Questioned
On Molestation

CHILTON — A West Bend man, taken into custody Tuesday by Calumet County sheriff authorities, has admitted stealing two cars, according to Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky.

Milton Molter, 47, was picked up by West Bend police and held for Calumet authorities. He was being sought for a June 23 car theft in New Holstein and one June 22 in Fond du Lac. In statements to Kosmosky, Molter admitted taking the cars and stealing a checkbook, radios and liquor from homes in New Holstein.

The car taken from Fond du Lac was abandoned near Meggers Corners, rural New Holstein. A front tire was blown out on the vehicle. The vehicle taken from an offstreet parking stall in New Holstein was stolen hours after the Fond du Lac car was abandoned, police said.

Molter is being questioned in connection with a child molesting complaint received by Kosmosky the day the car in New Holstein was stolen. The mother of a 13-year-old Kiel girl lodged the complaint.

Bonanno Is Freed Of Perjury Counts In Montreal Court

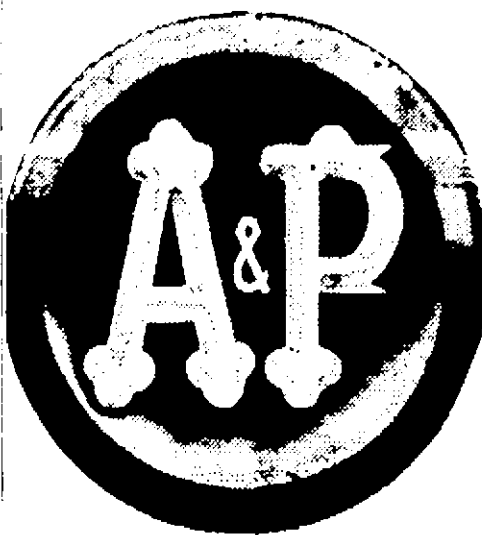

Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, who has had business ties with cheese firms in Fond du Lac and Dodge Counties, was acquitted this week of three charges of perjury at Montreal, Canada.

An Associated Press dispatch said Tuesday Bonanno was described by the Crown as a top United States underworld figure. It was charged he lied to immigration officials when entering Canada in May.

The court found that Bonanno, 59, had sought the counsel of lawyers several times before signing an affidavit for immigration officials, and signed only at the suggestion of two of his attorneys.

Bonanno, described in Senate crime hearings as one of New York's Cosa Nostra bosses, described himself as an Arizona land developer when he arrived in Canada and applied for immigrant status. He chose to fight deportation.

Over the years, Bonanno has made periodic visits to the Fox Valley.

Skilful Betting Coup Raises Havoc
Among English Bookmakers

LONDON (AP)—British bookmakers have been clobbered by a skillfully executed betting coup that may cost them several million pounds.

A group of more than 50 tough-looking men manipulated a race at the Dagenham greyhound track near London Tuesday forcing odds on three of six dogs entered upward while off track complies piled money on what turned out to be the winning ticket.

The coup which one bookmaker said makes the Great Train Robbery look like chicken feed could result in losses up to 10 million pounds—$28 million—for London betting parlors.

The bookies declared all bets on the race void but The Sporting Life, Britain's racing bible reported the decision to withhold payment was a mere formality.

Not Enough Money
They simply didn't have that much money, the publication said.

Ralph Gough, general manager of the dog track, said he believed the coup was legal.

There's no suggestion of doping, he said. We are quite satisfied with the running of the race.

Police said the bookies would have to prove any charges of fraud.

The betting syndicate went into action shortly before the 4:30 race at Dagenham. They tied up the 31 mutual windows until the race started placing bets on three dogs they apparently knew couldn't win and sending the odds on the trio skyrocketing.

Meanwhile, other members of the ring bet the combination of Buckwheat and Handsome Lass at shops throughout London.

Buckwheat won the race and Handsome Lass finished second.

Election Will Put Meaning to Political Words

'Impulsive' Is Popular Adjective Of This Campaign

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Impulsive seems to have become a popular word in the political vocabulary of the hour. Maybe it will even provide an issue in the campaign.

Governor Scranton of Pennsylvania uses the word in describing Senator Goldwater's alleged lack of qualification for the presidency. Henry Cabot Lodge, just returned from serving as ambassador to Viet Nam in order to campaign for the Pennsylvania governor, promptly adopts the word as applying to the Arizona senator. So perhaps it is timely to make an exhaustive analysis of not a "sophisticated" study, of just what the word means historically as well as in the field of political debate.

It was just a short span of years ago in the summer of 1950 that an important decision confronted a Democratic president, Harry Truman. The Communist armies had crossed the 38th parallel from North Korea to invade the territory of South Korea. Within 48 hours after the Communist invasion, the president—without waiting for the U.N. to organize an international army and without asking Congress to authorize the employment of our military forces—had ordered U.S. sea and air forces into action against the invaders. Was this "impulsive?"

School Trouble

It was under a Republican president, Dwight Eisenhower, in the autumn of 1957 that trouble developed in Little Rock, Ark., where a federal court had ordered a public school to desegregate. The state's national guard sent by the governor to preserve order at the high school was withdrawn on orders from the court, and there was some disorder near the school as the Negro students entered. But in the course of a few hours that evening the advisers around the president became panicky and urged that federal troops be ordered to the scene. He agreed and issued a proclamation threatening the use of federal forces, and they took charge the next morning even though the violence had subsided and before the local populace or police had been given an opportunity to show compliance with the warning proclamation. Was this "impulsive?"

It was under another Democratic president, John F. Kennedy, in April 1961 that Cuban exiles undertook an invasion of their homeland. The United States government had worked with the exiled Cubans for several months to plan and implement the operation and to give clandestine help. Air support was expected as a natural military maneuver essential to the success of the project. American naval forces were standing by when the Cuban exiles landed at the Bay of Pigs. But the president's advisers—including Adlai Stevenson, American ambassador to the United Nations—had persuaded Mr. Kennedy to cancel an airstrike by the Cuban exiles designed to knock out Castro's air force and to forbid U.S. planes to be used at any time, since this might create an unfavorable impression in the United Nations.

Changed Mind

It is reported that Mr. Kennedy later changed his mind again and told the Cubans they could make the airstrike and also agreed to allow U.S. planes to provide desperately needed air cover but it was all too late.

The expedition failed, and thus the United States lost an opportunity to get rid of the Castro problem. Can the president's action be suddenly overriding his military advisers be called impulsive?

Governor Scranton a few weeks ago had a long talk with former President Eisenhower at Gettysburg, and the impression was given that the governor was making himself available for the nomination. The next day, however, on a television appearance, he said things which indicated that he was not in the race for the presidential nomination. Was this impulsive, or does the word better describe the action of Mr. Scranton five days later in reversing himself and becoming an active candidate?

Prudent Man

Former Ambassador Lodge said this week that a president must not only refrain from impulsiveness but must be prudent. There comes to mind the action of Senator Goldwater who had for several months known that an emotional wave of public opinion was pushing the "civil rights" bill to passage by Congress. But Mr. Goldwater carefully studied past decisions of the Supreme Court and concluded that the measure as drawn was a violation of the Constitution, which as a senator he has taken an oath to support. So he decided to vote against the bill.

Certainly it cannot be charged that Mr. Goldwater was impulsive, but may it be said that he was imprudent by his vote? The answer isn't immediately available as the political dictionary for the year has not gone to press as yet. For what is politically prudent in 1964 will not be established until after the presidential election has taken place in November.

Put $250,000 Tag on Lehrer Property Offer

Owner Wants to Sell Land, Incinerator to City of Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — A $250,000 appraised value could be placed on the Richard Lehrer property being offered the city for $230,000, the city's finance committee was told Tuesday.

An outside appraiser placed that value on the land, incinerator and auxiliary buildings. Much of the value was due to the land for residential development, the appraiser said. Supt. of Schools Julian Blicher said he opposed construction of a school on the property although he did not oppose its purchase of the territory.

Blicher said the State Department of Public Instruction and regional planner had suggested a more central area as school site and he would continue to support the purchase of property recommended by these people.

July 10 Deadline

Lehrer has given the city until July 10 to decide whether it will purchase approximately 230 acres of land, the incinerator and auxiliary equipment at a cost of $230,000. A meeting of the board of health will be held to get state health officials' opinion on the incinerator operation.

A sanitary engineer from Green Bay also has agreed to inspect the Lehrer incinerator and give aldermen an idea of its value and its ability to serve the community as an incineration unit.

The finance committee approved the sale of eight pieces of city-owned property for a total of $1,325. All property was sold at the appraised value or above.

One piece of property on Green Bay Road appraised at $12,500 was not sold when the lone bidder submitted an offer of $7,000. The finance committee took the offer under study.

At an earlier meeting of the recreation and health committee approval was given to turning two employees for the park department for a six week period.

Discussion was held on the installation of a sprinkler system for the Joseph Bayorezon Recreation Area at an estimated cost of $2,750 but no action was taken.

Harrison Defeats Pond's, 8 to 6

SHERWOOD — Harrison won its first game Sunday, by defeating Appleton's Pond Sports team from the Babe Ruth League 8-6.

Ron Zaninger and Chuck Spang led the attack. They collected three hits in four times at bat.

Harrison scored four runs in the third and sixth innings. Appleton scored single runs in the fourth and sixth and four in the seventh.

Attendance Records Set At High Cliff

SHERWOOD — Attendance records were broken at High Cliff State Park Sunday when a crowd of 13,772 people visited the park in 3,835 cars, according to John Franzen, park manager.

Franzen said Sunday crowds have been at the park since Wednesday, especially in the swimming area.

Sunday's crowd was greater than the parking facilities, Franzen said, and broke all records for a single day.

He estimated about 12,000 was taken in during the last week from park fees.

Commission Finds Scranton Group Company Guilty of Says Peterson Age Discrimination Was Imprudent

Rules Racine Firm Forced
42 Retirements at Age 60

State GOP Chairman
Claims He Repeated
Comments of Others

MADISON (AP)—The State Industrial Commission held Tuesday that the Walker Manufacturing Co. of Racine discriminated against 42 employees forced to retire at age 60 and ordered them reinstated.

The ruling was the first in Wisconsin involving age discrimination which is prohibited in employment along with discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, national origin or ancestry.

Walker, which manufactures automobile parts, started a policy in 1962 of retiring on a systematic basis employees over 60. Officers of local 85 United Auto Workers AFL-CIO complained to the Industrial Commission that the company was practicing age discrimination in violation of state law.

Firm's Contentions

The company responded that the pension agreement with the union provides that persons between 60 and 65 years of age could be retired at the option of the company.

The law makes such pension agreements valid only if they do not constitute a subterfuge to evade age discrimination provisions of the Fair Employment law.

The commission found that neither the collective bargaining agreements nor the pension agreement required employee retirement before age 65.

"The respondent's voluntary adoption of a policy and voluntary institution of a system of compulsory retirement of the complainants prior to age 65 and solely because they had attained 60 or more years of age constituted a subterfuge to evade the purpose of the law," the commission found.

The company was ordered to stop the practice of retiring employees at age 60 and to pay the retired employees for the pay they lost through the forced retirement.

Congress Pay Boost Up for Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opponents of a proposed $7,500 salary increase for members of Congress promised a floor fight today as the Senate opened floor debate on a $664 million federal pay hike bill.

Sponsors of the legislation said they were confident they could beat off any major amendments, including those aimed at the congressional boost.

They said that if the House could go along with this increase when all of its members are up for election this year the Senate should be able to do so without difficulty. Only one-third of the senators must face the voters this fall.

Johnson Favors Bill

The bill covers about 17 million classified civil service and postal workers and also all federal executives and U.S. judges as well as senators and representatives.

President Johnson has been pushing hard for prompt action on the measure, asserting the executive raises are essential to retain key personnel in his administration.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told a reporter he would like to see the bill amended to give a $10,000 raise to members of Congress the same as that which would be granted Cabinet members.

He conceded that the chances for this seemed to be slim. Congressmen are now paid $22,500 annually.

Sens William Proxmire D-Wis. and Frank J. Lausche D-Ohio pledged a fight to knock out the congressional increases, arguing that a one-third pay raise was not justified.

Vote Tomorrow On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House votes Thursday on the revised civil rights bill. Overwhelming approval is expected which would send the measure to President Johnson for a symbolic July 4th signing ceremony.

Tuesday night, a pro-civil rights bloc on the House Rules Committee by a 14-5 vote cleared the 126-page bill for a House floor action.

The House approved the original version on Feb. 10 by a vote of 290 to 130. House members now will vote on the Senate version of the bill.

The idea of a Fourth of July signing ceremony moved a Rules Committee member Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., to declare "I think it would be a desecration."

Wisconsin supporters of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton are claiming today that State GOP Chairman Talbot Peterson was "imprudent" in saying that some state party leaders would "sit on their hands" if Sen. Barry Goldwater doesn't get the party's presidential nomination.

Peterson, on the other hand, says he wasn't reporting his own sentiments and that he helped set up the Scranton organization in Wisconsin.

Bill Moeller, a West Bend native and New York resident who is an aide of the national Scranton for President Committee, told the Post-Crescent today that Peterson's statement was imprudent and not in the best interest of the Republican Party of Wisconsin.

And State Group

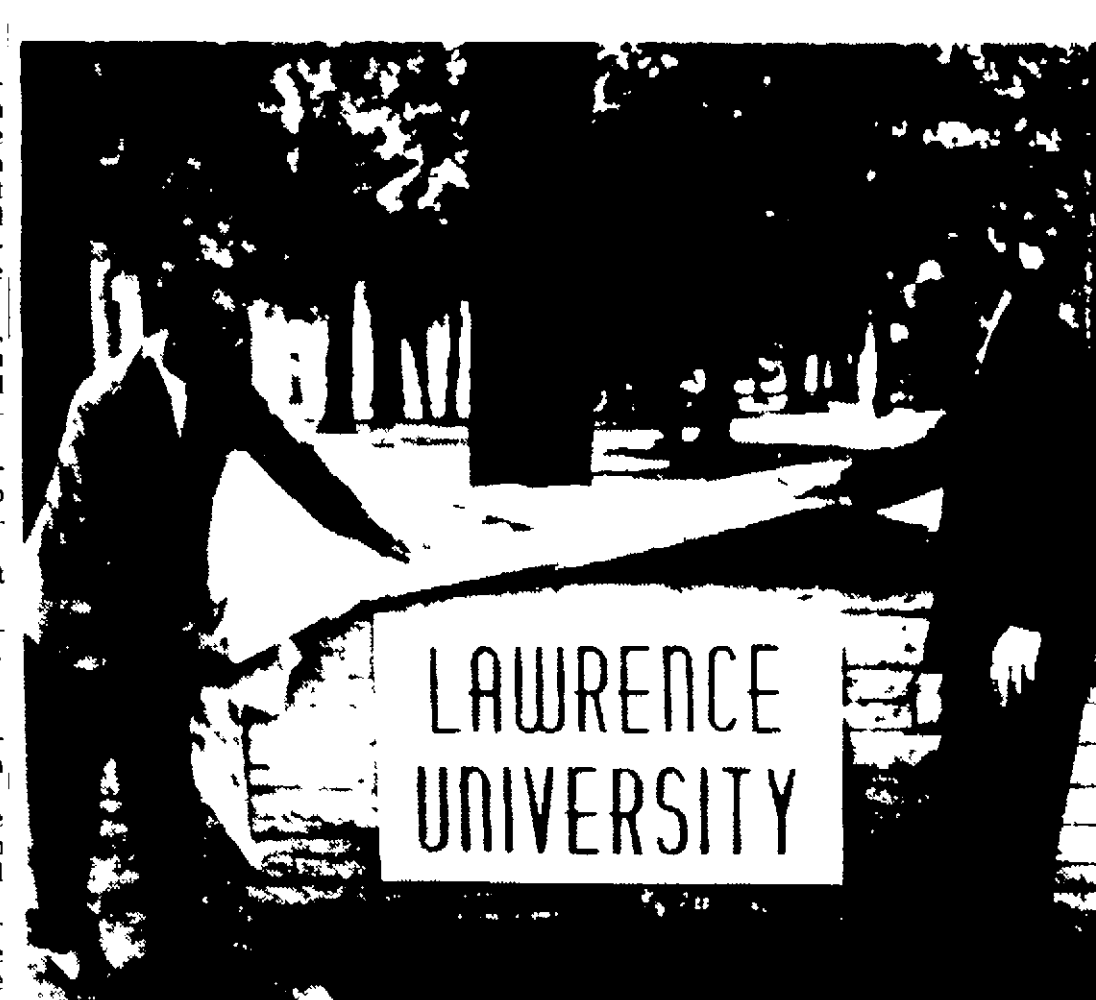

Moeller, who came to Appleton today to begin working with the state Scranton organization, said he intends to help the state group and to talk Scranton with some Wisconsin national convention delegates.

Moeller said "perhaps after Peterson examines the possible detrimental consequences, he may reconsider and soften his statement. We feel that Peterson's statement is not in keeping with the original plan to keep the Wisconsin delegation uncom-

Lodge Predicts Victory In S. Viet Nam Conflict

Realistic Political and
Military Policies Vital
In Fighting Reds, He Says

Lawrence College Officially merges with Milwaukee-Downer College today and becomes Lawrence University. Unveiling the new lettering on the main campus gate are Marwin O. Wrostad, left, university manager, and Jack S. Manwell, superintendent of building maintenance and plant engineer. Founded in 1847 as a university, Lawrence became a college in 1914.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge declared today that the downward spiral in the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam has been stopped.

He said we will win if the United States and the South Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies.

In his first major speech since returning from Saigon Monday after resigning as ambassador, Lodge pictured the greatest threat to this confident outlook as an increase in "hostile outside pressures from the Communist side."

If those pressures grow too great, he said in an address prepared for the National Press Club, then "we may be forced" to take other actions to deal with the new threat.

Lodge did not spell out what additional steps might be employed against Communist forces in Southeast Asia. There has been considerable talk from U.S. officials in recent weeks about possibly carrying the war to North Viet Nam by air strikes, but he did not mention that.

He did say, however, that one kind of "outside pressures" can come from neighboring land used as a "sanctuary" from which Viet Nam can be attacked and the Communist Viet Cong forces given assistance with impunity.

Premier inspection

"Obviously," Lodge said, "when one is engaged in a life-and-death struggle, such a sanctuary must not go on forever." But he added, "It should be possible to deal with this problem by peaceful means."

Lodge declared the United States "must work for effective supervision" of South Viet Nam's borders with North Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Laos to stop the Communists from violating them in moving supplies and reinforcements into South Viet Nam and in making attacks on that country.

He said proper supervision of the borders is essential for ending aggression in Viet Nam and for achieving peace in Southeast Asia.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said today Sen. Barry Goldwater is playing the warmongers' game in proposing use of military force to solve some international problems.

Scranton declared he believes Goldwater's front-runner for the Republican presidential nomination, in his heart wants peace.

Appleton, Oshkosh Become Homes of 'New' Universities

Lawrence, OSC Names Changed
To Adequately Describe Structure

Appleton and Oshkosh today each became the home of a university as the institutions of higher learning in both cities officially changed their names and organizational structures.

Lawrence College in Appleton became Lawrence University and the state college in Oshkosh like the other state colleges became Wisconsin State University.

In both instances the name has been changed to more adequately describe the educational structure of each institution. Both universities offer courses in more than one school of instruction.

Lawrence officially merged with Milwaukee-Downer College today. The Appleton school was founded as a university in 1847, but it was made a college in 1914.

Transfer of the movable physical property from the campus of the Milwaukee women's college to Appleton is almost completed, university officials said today.

Projections and problems after nearly three years in of were the keynote of the University Breakfast, which marked the official change of the name of the Oshkosh institution to Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

University President Dr. Roger E. Guiles compared the university to an adolescent who has outgrown last year's clothes in his address to educators and civic and government leaders.

He regarded the name-changing as a bench mark reflecting past accomplishments and as a challenge to move ahead and do what has to be done for the young people of eastern Wisconsin.

The Social Security Muddle

Under Social Security at present rates, the average benefit for a retired person is $26 per year. Such a person can earn an additional $1,200 without losing any benefits. The next $500 you earn, you lose $250 of benefits. Everything earned over $1,700 you lose.

Thus the average retired person can earn no more than a total of $237 per year. But President Johnson, in his "war on poverty," classifies any person making less than $3,000 a year as "poor."

Citing these statistics, Rep. Melvin Laird declares that "many of our elder citizens are frozen in poverty if we use the Administration's yardstick."

He suggests in his current newsletter that Social Security beneficiaries be allowed to earn up to $3,000 without loss of benefits. He also proposes three other liberalizations of present benefit rates: including those over 72 who never had a chance to qualify, that widows with children in school should qualify until the children are 21 instead of the present 18; and that all present benefits be increased by seven per cent.

Rep. Laird suggests that in order to pay for these increased benefits the Social Security withholding rate be increased by one-quarter of one per cent, and the tax would be applied to the first $6,000 of earnings instead of the first $4,800 as at present.

It has always seemed foolish that retired people on Social Security should be restricted in wage earning. It is especially ridiculous when such restrictions place them beneath what the President insists is enough to live on. But this is the course of a paternalistic government.

Meanwhile Democrats in the House Ways and Means Committee, mindful that increasing Social Security benefits is standard procedure in an election year, are proposing much greater increases in benefits and tax rates. Under their plan any person earning $5,400 or more would have his withholding raised from $174 at present to $205.20 next year and $259.20 by 1971. That would represent a 50 per cent increase.

For some peculiar reason little objection is raised to increases in Social Security taxes. For one thing the employer pays half, and the employee seldom looks at the amounts withheld on his pay check.

But these taxes are the most regressive in our whole tax system because every wage earner pays them and at the same rate as the millionaire.

Democratic Congressman Reuss in his current newsletter points out that there is still another way of raising Social Security benefits without raising taxes. He declares that the 75 million Americans who contribute to Social Security are being gypped to the tune of $176 million a year.

Here's Reuss' explanation. The reserves in the Social Security system, now totalling some $20 billions, can be lent only to the federal government. But the government is short-changing Social Security participants by paying less than the going rate of interest. Bulk of the reserves is tied up in bonds paying only 3 per cent, while the government is paying up to 4.2 per cent on other bonds.

Reuss has introduced a bill to require the government to pay the going rate of interest on its Social Security obligations.

But the chances are neither the Laird nor Reuss proposals will get anywhere. The politicians will probably prefer to make a billion dollar splash with a benefit increase just before election, and postpone the increase in taxes until the first of the year.

Humphrey Was Vice-Presidential Timber in Civil Rights Speech

BY MAX FREEDMAN

Freedman

At rare intervals a political speech is delivered in Washington that touches deep chords of national feeling and defines great issues with a touch of nobility. Such an address was delivered the other night before the Woman's National Democratic Club by Senator Hubert Humphrey, the deputy leader of the Democrats in the Senate. His speech is memorable not only for its eloquence but for its generosity of spirit and for its definition of the role of the Democratic Party in this year's elections.

Senator Humphrey was speaking while Washington rang with tributes to his work in winning approval for the Civil Rights Bill. At such a moment it was a test of character for him to resist the sentimental or partisan or narrow appeal. He passed this test triumphantly. The greatness of his speech consisted in the fact that it was less an assertion of party principles than an affirmation of the ideals which have nourished the destiny of America and sent it so blithely on the tasks of freedom.

One hopes that other leaders of the Democratic Party will follow his example in the Wide-Awake 4-H Club, won first place in the Outagamie County poster contest and Jean Blanshan of the Woodland Hustlers won first place in the poetry competition. Judges were Henry Van Straten, county superintendent of schools, and Lloyd J. Derus, of the Post-Crescent.

Mrs. Charles Piette, Mrs. Mary Dachelet and Mrs. Ernest Bellin were in charge of the card party sponsored by the Christian Mothers Society of St. Mary Church, Appleton.

In the cast for "Three Men on a Horse" were Sylvester Vandenberg, Robert Sonow-sky, Urban Van Susteren, Robert Reetz, Joan Hoffmann, Gretchen Hardt, Bill Meisle, Robert Lindsey, Peter Kersten, Gerry Mattern, Robert Krueger, Marion Smith, Dawson Hansen, Louis Warnecke and Janice Rohm. The play was to be presented arena style in the Jefferson School auditorium in Appleton.

discussion of civil rights. Speaking in the very citadel of Democratic strength, Senator Humphrey proudly acknowledged that the bill would never have passed the Senate without the active and generous support of most Republicans. He was less interested in claiming the victory as a monument to the Johnson administration than as a covenant of citizenship to which Republicans and Democrats should equally subscribe.

DIDN'T INSULT SOUTH

Very significant too was his refusal to sneer at the South or to insult it. He wants the new legislation to be enforced vigorously but fairly, and he knows this cannot be done without strain and difficulty. But he believes most people in the South will respect the law even though they may not like it. They will be helped in this reconciliation, he had the grace to add, if the rest of us admit that racial prejudice still festers in our Northern cities and has not yet been removed from our own hearts.

As one heard this noble appeal, and was moved by it, one was also uneasily aware that other political figures have raised a different and utterly squalid standard. Governor Wallace had made it his mission to raise a tempest of prejudice that will sweep across the land. Senator Goldwater will not stoop to this base business himself, but there are enough wild men in his camp to mistake the scum of prejudice for the moving tide of freedom.

Perhaps there are votes to be won by profiting from racial prejudice. But all such votes are bought at a terrible price. They dim the promise of America. They build walls of hate where there should be bridges of reconciliation. They arouse the worst passions in the nation when only its instructed conscience can give it strength and unity.

Senator Humphrey urged the Democratic Party to yield not one inch to these evil doctrines. He was less concerned with obtaining victory in November than in deserving it. He knew that error and intolerance are hard to fight and that they may sometimes have their victories. But the truth is mighty, and if enough Americans stand fast in its defense, it will prevail. He urged the Democrats to take the high road of principle, regardless of who detours into the path of expediency or chooses the low road of compromise with evil. Senator Humphrey commanded the great heights of political argument in making this appeal, and he pointed to the enduring values of a free society which alone can purge the election of its bitterness and folly.

Long years ago President Woodrow Wilson said of one of the greatest of all Americans that "He is a friend of all just men and a lover of the right, and he knows more than how to talk about the right — he knows how to set it forward in the face of its enemies." At least a part of this tribute can be claimed for Senator Humphrey. Freedom for him is no fugitive or cloistered virtue. It is an incentive to action, and his spirit rises whenever he can strike a blow at profitable wrong, or help a weak minority enter into its just inheritance. He derives his greatest satisfaction not in being the master of the caucus but in being the servant of his conscience.

It is correct to say that no other Democrat in 1964 has spoken with Senator Humphrey's authority and persuasive power in reviewing the party's legislative record and in defending America's passion for peace. He would be a tremendous asset to President Johnson in the campaign — and afterwards.

Some months ago I said I would never join the rather unseemly pastime of advising the President on the choice of a vice presidential candidate. I have no wish to vacate that vow now. But if President Johnson could have heard Senator Humphrey state the case for the Johnson administration, his search for the best candidate might well have come to a wise and abrupt end.

Rebuff for Kennedy Forces Hinted Among Wisconsin Delegates

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The formal declaration of the Wisconsin delegation to the Democratic national convention that it will avoid pre-convention commitments on the choice of a vice presidential candidate and defer to the wishes of President Johnson about a running-mate may be the routine thing it has been represented to be in the news dispatches.

But it may also very well be an oblique reprimand to those Wisconsin Democrats who have been quietly touting Attorney General Robert Kennedy as the heir of the JFK mantle and as the most logical candidate for second place on the ticket and for ultimate presidential preference.

There are suggestive corroborating factors for the idea. A dissenting vote at the first delegation caucus in Milwaukee last week was cast by Peter Dugall of Cadott, a rising party leader who got his original impetus in Democratic politics as a friend of Robert Kennedy in the 1960 pre-convention campaign. Dugall curtly announced that he doesn't want to be bound, and given his known friendship with Kennedy, the situation is susceptible to only one interpretation.

NELSON CHIEF

The pledge of allegiance to LBJ's choice was followed by only a few days by the announcement that Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin will be the "coordinator" of the Johnson campaign in Wisconsin.

Nelson thus replaces Patrick J. Lucey, the pro-Kennedy retiring national committeeman for the state who had volunteered to be the Johnson organization leader here this year and who thought he had won the designation and put out a press release about it a couple of months earlier. The neutrality pledge of the convention delegation was fashioned and moved by David Carley, who will be Lucey's successor as national committeeman and who is probably Nelson's closest collaborator in Wisconsin politics. Remembering that Nelson is championing the candidacy of Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota for the vice presidency, the idea that Wisconsin delegation neutrality may be an oblique anti-Kennedy play becomes difficult to avoid.

There must be an occasional Democrat, meanwhile, who wonders about the origin of the idea that the delegates and the convention on the whole should not have a voice in the selection of the running-mate of an incumbent president and that they must sit tamely in their seats prepared to ratify what the President wants.

IMAGINARY COLLOQUY

In the life of the typical convention delegate, the experience is one of memorable dimensions. The average man or woman must budget for a considerable expenditure of personal funds. The ordinary delegate would be less than human if he did not reflect on the fact that he will participate in an historically significant event. Yet it is not hard to visualize a conversation, between Mr. Wisconsin delegate and his high school age son, who is studying public affairs in high school.

"Who will the Democrats nominate for president, dad?" he might ask.

"Mr. Johnson, of course."

"What kind of a platform will the convention write, dad?"

"Whatever Mr. Johnson wants, son."

"Who will be nominated for vice president, dad?"

"Whoever is picked by the President."

"Why are you so anxious to go to the convention, dad?"

"Don't interrupt me, boy."

"I'm reading a good editorial which argues constructively that the Republicans ought to have an open convention for the good of their party and the country."

Silent Spring Seen Nearly True in Sweden

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The untimely death of Rachel Carson was noted not only in this country but all over the world. I was looking through the Scandinavian Times news magazine the other day, and learned about the "Silent Spring" in Sweden.

The white-tailed eagle has vanished from the Baltic coast. The yellowhammer was hardly to be seen in the south of Sweden. The horned owl and many other birds have disappeared. All of them murdered by that greatest and most dread predator of all—Man.

Miss Carson's book, "Silent Spring," had been a best-seller in Sweden, too, and the magazine reported, "Its predictions have suddenly been borne out here on an awesome scale, because the Swedes have taken to biochemical preparations with notable enthusiasm. Now their spring is beginning to turn silent."

And the poisoning is not confined to birds. "It is like a chain reaction that may strike any victim," says the magazine. "A typical process begins when a farmer treats his seed grain with poison — mercury has been found especially deadly — against disease and insects. Birds eat the corn and, mortally ill, become the prey of other birds or animals. They, in turn, die. Or contaminated grain is used as chicken food. Result: poisoned eggs or meat that taste quite all right, but may pass the contamination on even to humans."

Shocked by evidence that poisoning of their bodies may be quite widespread, the Swedish government established a Council on Poisoning, appropriated funds for a crash program of research at Stockholm University, and banned some of the more dangerous substances used to treat grain.

"Some people thought much tougher action was called for," said the magazine, "but farm organizations made the point that farmers simply had to use pesticides to maintain production. Those who feared increasingly silent springs could only argue that drenching Sweden with 7,000 tons of the stuff annually was overdoing it."

This melancholy article concluded with the statement that bird lovers, after a massive survey this spring, found that Sweden's birdlife had changed more drastically since the introduction of biochemicals than in the previous 150 years. Even worse is "uneasy speculation among Swedish scientists that the poisons might have fearful delayed effects on humans, triggering cancer and influencing heredity."

I have quoted so extensively to stress the point that this is not a national problem, but a global one. We are upsetting the whole ecology of the world, with little thought that the short-term gains might be heavily outweighed by the long-term consequences. Could Shelley see us plain today, he might write: "If winter comes, can contamination be far behind?"

Looking Backward

Editor's View of Convention

100 Years Ago
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for July 2, 1864.

The following sketch was written by Samuel Wilkeson, who reported the proceedings of the Baltimore Convention, and who is one of the Editors of the New York Herald Tribune.

"The history of the Baltimore Convention to re-nominate Abraham Lincoln is written in the delegation rooms in part. It is a history in part of the admission into the convention of States and into the Federal Union as States.

"Arkansas, where under Banks we have been whipped, not only out of our boots, but out of all actual political possession of the soil to elect a hog-tree:

"Of Louisiana, where we have political possession just so far as our 30-pound Parrott guns will shoot, and not one inch farther;

"Of Tennessee, where we have jurisdiction and political grip just as fishermen in Fundy have foothold between the ebb and flow of the tide, and not one inch more;

"Of Nevada, Colorado, Nebraska, scarcely fledged territories, in whose behalf, when knocking at the Electoral College door and elbowing out older Massachusetts and old New York in their hot hunger after the rewards of politics, not one word could be invented for public avowal save that their admission to the convention would help schemes to bring them into the Union as States.

"I do not care now to write the history of this new chapter in American politics. It can bide its time."

public relations firms with offices in Washington and New York, has been retained to handle the contemplated boom for the draft Eisenhower plan. It is understood that several hundred thousand dollars have been deposited to the firm's account for this purpose.

The decision to resort to General Eisenhower was reached after a detailed report revealed that Governor Scranton's furious campaigning was not catching fire. It was determined that the Pennsylvanian, seemingly lacking the spark that was necessary to coalesce sufficient party forces and public sentiment to halt Goldwater's apparent steady sweep toward the nomination.

The Only Hope
Opinion among the stop Goldwater strategists was unanimous that only Eisenhower could prevent the Arizona from winning the prize by the second ballot.

This view was conveyed directly to Lodge in Saigon in a long distance conversation. He immediately expressed his willingness to quit as ambassador and return to Washington to lend his influence to induce Eisenhower to join the stop Goldwater strategy by drafting him. Lodge played a leading role in 1952 in persuading the five-star commander of NATO to enter the lists against the late Senator Robert Taft.

Clues Lacking
In Stabbing of Teen-Age Girl

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The search for the brutal slayer of a pretty teen-age girl appeared to be hanging down today as investigators failed to report turning up any concrete clues.

Sherriff's deputies who had hoped on a quick solution to the fatal slaying of Jessica Minter worked far into the night apparently without success.

Jessica, a popular 14-year-old was found on the living room floor of her home in suburban Westridge a few miles northwest of here. She had been stabbed 21 times.

Early questioning centered on two age boys in the neighborhood, but police did not report finding any possible suspects.

Mother Left
The girl's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Minter, had left the house for her office in Springfield an hour and 55 minutes before the body was found by a girl friend who had stopped by to pick Jessica up to go swimming.

Mrs. Minter, a divorcee, is secretary-treasurer of Fink & Heine Co., a meat packing firm here.

Investigators believe the girl answered a knock on the door and was stabbed almost immediately upon opening it. She was stabbed once in the back, once in the head and 19 times in the chest area.

The body was set to a hospital for an autopsy.

Improvements Approved for Hilbert Street

Special Hearing Held Monday on Curb, Gutter Issue

HILBERT — Installation of curb and gutter on the west side of Fifth Street was approved Monday night at a special public hearing.

Improvements will extend on Fifth Street from Main to Chestnut streets, a distance of two blocks.

Fifth Street residents previously had applied for the improvements but failed to get the needed 100 per cent waiver for the improvements, thereby requiring a public hearing. There were no objections at the hearing.

Several Third Street residents appeared at the hearing and requested the same improvements for their street extending one block north from Cedar Street. Village officials instructed them to circulate a petition and if 100 per cent signing is achieved, the work will be done without a public hearing.

The work will be done by a local contractor although no estimated price has been given. Ernest Pitzer, village utility director, asked residents to cut down on lawn watering because of a water shortage.

Drill Planned to Test Chilton Fire, Police, Medical Staffs

CHILTON — Hospital, fire department and police department firemen personnel Monday night had a taste of what a hospital fire would involve when a fire drill procedure including various types of hospital patients was held at Calumet Memorial Hospital.

Hospital Administrator Fred Eggers, Fire Chief Norbert Sturm and Police Chief Dan Albedyll planned the drill and personnel involved knew nothing of it.

Monday are practice nights for the fire department. The alarm was planned to take place in the middle of practice when all equipment had been taken from the trunk. Sturm said it took his department only 3 1/2 minutes from the time of the siren to arrive on the scene of the "fire."

In East Wing One of the trucks was at the fairgrounds practicing while the other was at the State Street bridge when the call came in on the radio at 8:15 p.m.

Location of the fire had been pre-determined as the east wing. The firemen helped evacuate dummy patients, set up ladders and had hoses on the roof within 10 minutes the phony fire was under control, Sturm said.

This was the first such drill in three years.

Area Blocked Off Controlling traffic were five city policemen. Within five minutes, streets leading to the hospital for two blocks had been blocked off and only authorized personnel were allowed to enter the area.

Eggers said everyone at the hospital carried out emergency procedures as they had been instructed.

The practice was in conjunction with a fire school which had been conducted in the hospital during the day by Capt.

Three donors were presented with their one gallon pins. They were Mrs. Helena Abraham, Mrs. Albert Hahn and Duane Koehler.

Among the other donors, 14 have already passed the gallon mark and nine, the two gallon mark. Gottle Ehrhardt, top blood donor of the community, contributed another pint of blood on his way to four gallons.

Seymour Youth Drowns in Lake

Cunningham, floating about, kicked her in the chin.
Pat Dey, 17, Seymour, swam to Cunningham to help, but he grabbed her suit and pulled her under. She tore free, and Cunningham again screamed for help.

Last Time
Mrs. John Butman, Green Bay, and Mrs. Francis Bruz, route 2, Kaukauna, grabbed the youth, but he pulled them, too, beneath the water.
Finally, by this time in water about eight feet deep, Cunningham went under for the last time.

The body of the young man was dragged onto an air mattress, and towed to shore by Harvey Johnson, Menasha, and Al Bauck, 712 S. Oneida St., Appleton.

Judy Dryden, 18, Black Creek, for almost 40 minutes, administered mouth-to-mouth respiration. Cunningham did not respond. The Black Creek Fire Department rescue squad arrived and gave artificial respiration and oxygen. They worked for almost one-half hour after the youth was pronounced dead.

Open Few Weeks
The lake was built by Black Creek Advancement Association and has only been open a few weeks.

Association President Bob Turkow said the group met Tuesday night to discuss the pool's operation.

The swimming area is marked at depths of two, four and six feet.

Mr. John Regel, Weyauwega, was the oldest former member of the school board observing his 70th birthday at the reunion. He was born and raised near the school and served over 20 years on the school board as director and clerk. His board member associates were Anthony Roemer, who was treasurer for 10 years and Leon Fraedrich, clerk for about 25 years. Together they added the school basement, pump house, porch and other improvements with the work done as "gratis". Their salaries were from $3 to $5 a year.

Mrs. Florence A. Jones was the first of the 67 teachers at the school. The district was organized in 1867 with the purchase of about one acre of land for the school site from B. M. Barnes for $5. The land now will revert back to the present property owners Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erickson. William Wait was hired to build the school for $100.

Double Desks
Operation expenses during the initial years ranged between $150 to $200 a year. An interesting note is the double pupil desks and seat combinations seating two pupils side by side and sharing the desk space. These were eliminated in 1953. Electricity was installed in 1936 and oil heat was provided in 1947.

Since 1961 the school was part of the Wild Rose school system. This fall the pupils will attend a new eight-room school located about four miles from the present school. It is being constructed on 20 acres of purchased land and 20 acres of leased land.

Ring in 'Old,' Ring Out 'New' At Lawrence University

Name Change Becomes Official, Lots of Things Must be Changed

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN
Of Lawrence University

A lot of things are going out of style at Lawrence today.

This is the day the name Lawrence College becomes obsolete. No one is taking any bets, however, on the length of time actually required to eradicate it from the working vocabulary.

After ten months of preparation, the merger between Lawrence and Milwaukee-Downer colleges becomes an actuality, and the name Lawrence University of Wisconsin appears in their separate steads. And with a name change comes housecleaning—"The Time of the Bulging Wastebasket."

"Tight" Is Watchword
The housecleaning, however, is being conducted within reason, for the alma mater hymn has long been paraphrased, "Tight is our Lawrence watchword."

So when it comes to the 19,000 letter-sized and 17,000 pamphlet-sized envelopes all boldly imprinted Lawrence College, they'll be used up, never fear.

Mrs. Raymond Graupman, secretary to the business manager and guardian of the institution's office supplies, expects it will take about five years before the last bit of obsolete paper dribbles out.

Ghost of College

With ten months to plan for the name changeover, most supplies were gauged for depletion by today. The central printing office at Lawrence figured things so closely that there were only two reams of Lawrence College stationery to last the whole institution during the last week, and the alumni office ran out of nametags at commencement reunions.

However, some things like envelopes are purchased in several-year supplies, and that is where the ghost of Lawrence College will linger on.

What sort of thing becomes dated when an institution changes its name? Oddly enough, very few things on the physical campus itself.

University Avenue?

At Lawrence, there are only a couple of signs that need to be changed: a brass plaque at the west entrance of the library that still proclaims it to be a college; a painted sign hanging at Union Street and College technically now obsolete, though it is doubtful if anyone cares; and a construction billboard at Youngchild Hall of Science.

The campus's main identifier as a college disappeared a year ago when individual metal letters were vandalized from the decorative gateway at College and Drew Street. The sign will soon reappear, corrected and vandal-proof.

But in the little artifacts that accumulate at a school, and in the dozens of forms for its paper work—that is where the damage is done. Souvenirs in local shops—Lawrence College mugs, wastebaskets, T-shirts, bags, sweatshirts, blazers, stationery, pennants and decals—are now only historic curios.

The institutional seal and all decorative devices must be altered back to the form used 50 years ago when Lawrence University became Lawrence College.

Records Stay Obsolete

More than a thousand tapes of radio music from Lawrence must be removed from circulation, because the announcing uses the old name. All the permanent records in the registrar's vault become obsolete. "And they're going to stay that way," Registrar Dorothy H. Draheim announces crisply.

She says a greater obsolescence came last week when the records were changed over to a computer system. Paraphrasing she added that all students' grades were ready, averaged and a dozen professional things done to them 24 hours after the last marks appeared in her office—a task that used to take three weeks.

All of Lawrence's listings in national educational directories and academic publications must be changed. The title Dean of the College is obsolete, and now Dr. Chandler W. Rowe will be known as Dean of Academic Affairs.

Purists Offended

The name Lawrence Women's Association will have to be dropped, for it will now govern the women of Downer College and The Conservatory of Music. The best compromise thought of to date is Associated Women Students.

The andirons in Memorial Union, shaped like a L and a C, are now offensive to the purists. Even the angry student daubings on campus construction checks and retaining walls are old hat. At one time last year when students protested the strictness of dormitory rules, there appeared the slogan "Lawrence, the liberal arts college," with the word "liberal" elaborately crossed out.

bring line. One of them is off on a trip to California. She has promised to murmur "Lawrence University, Lawrence University" with every turn of the wheels, preparing for her return.

(Editors note. The switchboard operators apparently have succeeded in this. Called today, the operator responded with "Good Morning, Lawrence University." She said she had practiced all night.)

Motion Picture Camera Disappears From Shelf At Camera Exchange

Police today were searching for clues in the disappearance of an imported, professional type of motion picture camera from an Appleton camera store. Kenneth Berner, manager and co-owner of the Camera Exchange, 324 W. College Ave., said he noticed the camera, a Swiss-made Bolex, worth about $420, was missing from an open display shelf in the store Tuesday.

Berner said the camera, a used model, is too large for most amateur use, but is frequently used for sports and action photography.

He said he is notifying camera dealers in other cities to be alert for the camera, which is a type most dealers do not stock.

Mollie Pfeiffer has issued licenses to:

Flowers
I have known
By CHARLES HOUSE

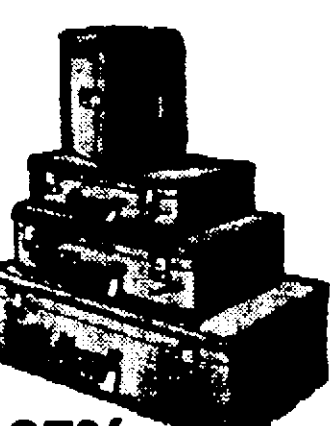

I know the skunk cabbage. Odorous, putrid, unpleasant though this flower may be, I am as delighted with my first view of it as I am with the first sight of a springtime robin. The reason is the same. Skunk cabbage is the first—really the first—flower of spring. Its smell is very strongly suggestive of carrion flesh but its purpose is not to be offensive. Its aim in life is the reproduction of its kind. Yet the flower-spathe blooms so early that there is only one pollinating insect that is up and around at that time. The insect most available to do the important job of pollinating is the blow fly. And what odor attracts flesh flies? Rotten flesh. Even its color suggests the appearance of rotting flesh. Spiders have learned that flies visit the skunk cabbage and, as practical as the flower itself, the spiders build webs across the "front door" of the skunk cabbage and net many a visitor. You may scorn the fetid skunk cabbage if you wish, but I do not; it is the real harbinger of spring.

GOP Appearing to Box Themselves on Issues

Intraparty Struggle on Viet Nam Is Putting Ambassador Lodge in Middle

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson couldn't have it better if he had cooked it up. Republicans are boxing themselves in, which is fine for Johnson who has to run against one of them since nothing shows a runner like the inside of a box. They have to climb over Viet Nam civil rights words that can hardly be withdrawn or explained away, and a highly unpleasant intraparty struggle. Even Republicans on the same side don't agree on what the issues are.

For 10 months Henry Cabot Lodge as US ambassador was parcel of the administration's Kennedy Johnson administration's chief agent in fighting communism in Viet Nam. He quit to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to beat Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

If anybody is an authority on what's happening in Southeast Asia it should be Lodge. He said the war against communism there is on the right track. And he said more he doesn't see how Viet Nam could be come a campaign issue. But Scranton, the man he came home to help, says it is. So does Goldwater. And this week so did a group of House Republicans.

They criticized the Johnson administration, even though Lodge was serving it, and said its policy in Viet Nam was why win?

If the Republicans do make it an issue, they put Lodge in the middle.

Johnson can throw Lodge's words back at them since as ambassador he was part and parcel of the administration's policy and approved it.

There had been speculation that if Scranton lost the nomination to Goldwater he might run for the vice presidency on the senator's ticket.

It was reasoned that in this way the two wings of the party might be kept from flying apart.

For a while it looked possible. No matter how much he criticized Goldwater, Scranton said he would support the Arizona hard way and looks like a man with a stranglehold on the nomination.

now for Scranton has reached the point of saving Goldwater is unfit for the presidency. How now could he urge Goldwater's election?

Meanwhile Goldwater by his vote against the civil rights bill has created a problem for Northern and Eastern Republicans with large Negro voting populations in their states and districts.

Southern Vote

The senator has said a Republican couldn't win this year without the South. And no doubt his vote won him friends among Southern Whites.

But if he should try to appease Northern Negroes or help Northern Republican politicians by saving if elected he would enforce the civil rights act, then he could lose what he gained among Southern whites without persuading Northern Negroes. There is no indication he has anything like this in mind.

Upon his return Monday Lodge hinted he would try to get Dwight D. Eisenhower to come out for Scranton before the Republican convention opens July 13.

Monday he talked to the former president and later said he expected him to speak out on the nomination before July 13.

Convention Delegates

Goldwater has a carload of convention delegates in his pocket. He worked for them the hard way and looks like a man with a stranglehold on the nomination.

Lawrence, OSC Names Lodge Expects Changed to University Victory in Asia

he said, is to provide a good faculty. The number one problem is finding adequate space to adequately handle projected increased enrollments and expanded courses of study.

He described the present facilities of the university and spoke of plans to enlarge them. Addition of a school of business is proposed, he said. More dormitory space is needed because more and more students are coming from outside the Oshkosh area and even from out of the state.

Scranton Group Says Peterson Was Imprudent

mitted on the first national convention ballot."

Wisconsin's national convention delegation is pledged to "favorite son" Rep. John Byrnes of Green Bay on the first ballot.

Peterson denied he has been showing any personal preference for front-running GOP presidential hopeful Sen. Goldwater.

Helped Group

Peterson recounted how he had been contacted by the national group supporting Scranton for the GOP nomination and asserted he had suggested Mrs. Peter Nelson of Appleton as possible state chairman.

Mrs. Nelson, who became co-chairman of the Wisconsin Committee for Scranton along with Dennis Herring, also of Appleton, said in a statement of her own today that the group has "been most encouraged by the number of Republican leaders throughout the state who have indicated their encouragement and support and who have expressed their strong feelings that Gov. Scranton's nomination is imperative to the continued well being of the party."

In a prepared statement from Mrs. Nelson and Herring, they said, "We feel his (Peterson's) remarks indicating non-support to any other Republican presidential candidate (other than Goldwater) are inimical to the best interests of the Republican Party. We find it impossible to believe that the state chairman of the Republican Party could encourage anything less than total support of any Republican nominee and we ask that he vigorously discourage any attitude to the contrary."

Welcome Scranton

Peterson told the Post-Crescent he would welcome Scranton into the state if he chose to visit, but repeated his previously expressed views that if Scranton were invited by the Republican leadership, other candidates ought to be invited too. He recalled that Goldwater aides had been turned down earlier when they suggested that their candidate be asked to address state delegates.

Evans Gives Talk

William Evans, a candidate for Democratic attorney general nomination, said Tuesday night that the "recent important reversals in the ill-fated Milwaukee John Doe proceedings clearly expose the real intent of those persons who failed their attempt to twist... it for their own political aggrandizement."

He told a Milwaukee Democratic ward unit that "court dismissal on the state's own motion of all John Doe criminal charges against two of its most important and highly-touted would-be victims reveals the lack of any substantial necessity for this two and one-half year inquisition which cost Wisconsin taxpayers over $200,000 of known expenses."

The endorsed Republican candidate for governor, Warren Knowles, said Tuesday night that Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds has "leaped onto the Kerr-Mills bandwagon as a vote-getting maneuver."

Knowles Statement

Knowles said in a statement issued by his Milwaukee headquarters that Republican legislators backed the bill to implement the federal program in Wisconsin.

"The Kerr-Mills plan of medical care for persons over 65 goes into effect Wednesday (today) and I predict that Reynolds will pop up somewhere claiming credit for the program," Knowles said.

Milwaukee attorney Dominic Frinzi, who is opposing Reynolds for the Democratic governor nomination, said Tuesday night at Racine, "I propose a tax freeze on a flexible basis to encourage the expansion and growth of new industry" in the state. He said the tax freeze "would be conditional upon the industry showing its ability to remain in Wisconsin for a reasonable period of time."

Frinzi also said he opposed any form of "right to work" laws.

Asia. He did not say how the supervision might be achieved. There has been speculation that the United States might ask the United Nations to undertake the task.

Can't Become Weary

Lodge devoted his prepared address entirely to a report on the conflict in Viet Nam. He served there as ambassador for 10 months before his decision two weeks ago to come home and help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his fight against Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

Lodge warned Americans against becoming discouraged about the struggle in Southeast Asia, declaring that they should emulate the "mole-like patience" of the Communists in what he said will be a long struggle.

"If we and the Vietnamese persist in carrying out realistic political and military policies, we will win—provided the hostile outside pressures stay as they were about last summer."

Secret Move To Draft Ike

public relations firms, with offices in Washington and New York, has been retained to handle the contemplated boom for the "draft Eisenhower" plan. It is understood that several hundred thousand dollars have been deposited to the firm's account for this purpose.

The decision to resort to General Eisenhower was reached, it is authoritatively understood, after a detailed report revealed that Governor Scranton's furious campaigning "was not catching fire." It was determined that the Pennsylvania seemingly lacked the spark that was necessary to coalesce sufficient party forces and public sentiment to halt Goldwater's apparent steady sweep toward the nomination.

The Only Hope

Opinion among the stop-Goldwater strategists was unanimous that only Eisenhower could prevent the Arizona from winning the prize by the second ballot.

This view was conveyed directly to Lodge in Saigon in a long distance conversation. He immediately expressed his willingness to quit as ambassador and return to Washington to lend his influence to induce Eisenhower to join the stop Goldwater strategy by drafting him. Lodge played a leading role in 1952 in persuading the five-star commander of NATO to enter the lists against the late Senator Robert Taft.

Helicopter Herds Cow Into Field

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Traffic was heavy during the evening rush hour Tuesday when a cow meandered onto a north expressway.

A helicopter pilot relating traffic conditions to a radio station saw the bovine. Hovering over it he herded the cow from the road and into a nearby field.

Churchman Advocates Understanding for Topless Dresses

DURHAM, England (AP)—The archbishop of Canterbury says understanding, not shock, should be the Christian reaction to topless dresses.

Dr. Michael Ramsey, 59, archbishop, said Tuesday: "The worst possible thing for church people is to adopt an attitude of being shocked."

"We must accept the fact that young people express themselves in new methods of dress that may seem queer to the older of us. We must accept that fact and... understand them."
